Sebring Man Dies As Truck Rams Cycle

Ellwood Helsel, 23, Is Victim; Trucker Awaits Hearing

A 31-year-old Pleasantville, Pa., truck driver was to appear in the Youngstown Municipal Court later today to face charges of traffic manslaughter as a result of a truck-motorcycle-auto crash on Rt. 18 about 1:30 this morning, the Mahoning County Sheriff's office said.

Truck driver Bernard H. Seigworth is being charged in the death of Ellwood Helsel, 23, of 819 S. 14th St , Sebring. Helsel was pronounced dead on arrival at Youngstown Southside Hospital at 2:10 a.m.

The cyclist was following a car driven by his wife, Lucille, 20, as they returned home from a service station. The truck, also going west, struck the motorcycle from the rear and then struck the auto driven by Mrs. Helsel, highway patrolmen from the Canfield post, said.

Mrs. Helsel and Seigworth escaped injury, patrolmen said.

Impact of the rear-end collision threw Helsel to the pavement and broke his neck. The gasoline tank truck driver told Sheriff's deputies there were no lights on the back of the motorcycle and he didn't see it in time to stop.

Mrs. Helsel told deputies she and her husband were traveling about 45 miles an hour at the time of the accident which occurred about two miles west of Youngstown.

4 Hurt As Car Flips

Four persons were admitted yesterday at East Liverpool City Hospital following a one-car accident on County Rd. 430, about three miles east of Rt. 170.

In fair condition today is Bruce Wade Sr., 37, of 108 W. 2nd St., East Liverpool, driver of the auto. He suffered a fractured jaw. Also in fair condition, the hospital said, is his wife, Donna Jean, 25, who received abrasions of the back and shoulders. Their two-year-old son, Wade Jr., is in good condition.

Another passenger, Joseph Wetzel, 14, of W. 2nd St., is in fair condition with a fractured arm and abrasions of the body. His brother Donald, 17, was treated and released from the hospital. The Wade's and the Wetzels are in-laws.

According to highway patrolmen, Wade was travelling at a "high rate of speed" and missed a curve on County Rd. 430 about 8:20 p.m. The auto rolled over. He was not arrested.

In the county's non-injury accident Wednesday, a car driven by Joyce A. Mohr, 21, of RD 1, Negley, and a truck driven by Charles G. McKenzie, 28, of RD 1, Wellsville, sideswiped each other on the Pancake-Clarkson Rd., about three miles west of Rt. 170, at 4:25 p.m.

U.S. Secretary Winging Way To Washington

Herter Will Report To Eisenhower on Failure at Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flew home today to tell President Eisenhower that despite the failure of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference, West Berlin is probably safe from Soviet pressure for many months to come.

Traveling by Air Force jet, Herter was due in Washington at 4:15 p.m. EST and planned to see the President an hour after his arrival.

The foreign ministers' conference—one of the longest high-level international sessions in more than a century—recessed indefinitely Wednesday night without agreement on either of the two major problems discussed. These were a German peace settlement and the future of West Berlin.

But Herter went home convinced that the danger of any overt Soviet action to force the Western powers out of West Berlin has been suspended and a new period of decreased tension in East-West relations seems to be opening.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd expressed a somewhat similar view on his arrival in London Wednesday night from Geneva. Recalling the tension which flared when Premier Nikita Khrushchev made his first threat last November to drive the Allies from West Berlin, Lloyd said the Geneva conference had succeeded in creating "the kind of atmosphere in which you negotiate."

Herter's view is based mainly on two developments: the agreement by Eisenhower and Khrushchev to exchange visits and hold informal talks beginning in Washington in September, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's repeated statements here that his government prefers a nego-

Congress Doesn't Want to Hear Khrushchev

Mr. K's Visit May Hurry Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may accomplish something congressional leaders are having difficulty doing.

He may speed up final adjournment of the present session of Congress.

While the exact dates for the Soviet leader's visit to the United States and for the adjournment of Congress are indefinite, there is one thing certain. Congressional leaders don't want to be in session when Khrushchev arrives in Washington.

They have no heart for a joint meeting of the Senate and the House to hear Khrushchev. The absenteeism might be so noticeable as to create international hard feelings.

Khrushchev's visit tentatively has been set for about the middle of September. Mid-September also has been mentioned as the likely date for adjournment of Congress, unless a speed-up in the work schedule is effected.

The speed-up now is in the making, and the current adjournment target date is Sept. 5, leaving a respectable interlude between the time members of Congress depart and Khrushchev arrives. To leave a shorter interval might be interpreted as a deliberate attempt by the legislators to avert a meeing with their chief.

Apparenly, avoiding such a

School Board Contest Here Assured Nov. 3

44 Nonpartisans In Last-Minute Rush; Towns Draft Slates

Forty - four nonpartisan candidates swamped the Columbiana County Election Board with petitions before the deadline Wednesday afternoon to boost the number of aspirants for village, township and school district posts to 203 at the Nov. 3 general election.

The last-minute rush kept the election staff busy right up to the 4 p.m. deadline with four candidates for constables as the last to file.

The candidates include 104 for offices in 19 townships, 46 school district aspirants and 53 seeking offices in five villages under 2,000 population.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the Nov. 3 ballot will include a maximum of 374 names. In addition to the nonpartisan candidates, there were 171 nominated at the May primaries on party or independent tickets.

New Waterford Slate Full

New Waterford and Summitville filed complete slates while Hanoverton lacks a mayoralty candidate and Rogers has only three aspirants for six council seats and Washingtonville must name a trustee for public affairs on a write-in.

The general election also will settle contests for board of education posts in 9 of 13 districts, including races in Salem, East Liverpool and Wellsville.

School board candidates in the Salem city school district include Orein Naragon and Gail C. Herron, incumbents, Bryce W. Kendall and Stephen Gonda. There are three to elect. Alfred Fitch, board president, is not a candidate for re-election.

The election board will meet on Monday night in its East Liverpool headquarters to rule on the validity of the candidates' petitions. However, all candidates, whether nonpartisan, independent or party nominees, are permitted to withdraw until Aug. 14, O'Hanlon said.

The 171 nominated on party tickets were named at May primaries in Salem, East Palestine, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salineville, Columbiana, Lisbon and Leetonia.

Two mayoralty contests will highlight the Nov. 3 general election in five villages after 53 candidates entered on nonpartisan tickets before the deadline Wednesday.

Three men are seeking the top post in New Waterford while a write-in campaign will determine Hanoverton's mayor Howard Hart after no candidate sought the office.

New Waterford, Hanoverton and Summitville also will decide council races while Rogers will settle a contest for village clerk and elect three councilmen by write-in votes.

Washingtonville will elect one member to the board of trustees of public affairs by the same method. Nominees for other village offices are unopposed.

USW, Industry Talks Continue

Mediator Asks End To Public Barrage

NEW YORK (AP) Federal mediators are trying to persuade the steel strike negotiators to stop their barrage of public statements accusing each other and to concentrate on real bargaining for a new contract.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, says: "Anytime parties get together and quit laying down publicity barrages and go at things in a workmanlike way, it's progress."

Finnegan, who maneuvered Wednesday for less blasting in public, said he aw "no indications of any change by either party on any economic issue."

Will Soviet Trip Thaw East-West Freeze?

Nixon's Historic Trip Touches Off Appraisal

WASHINGTON (AP) —The end of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's historic trip to the Soviet Union touched off today an intense appraisal of its impact on the cold war.

President Eisenhower and Nixon banked on the vice president's tour and the forthcoming swap of visits by Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to help thaw a dangerous East-West freeze.

The administration policy was admittedly a gamble, taken against advice from some U. S. strategists who favor continued isolation of the Reds as the surest way to promote the free world.

The hope was that the exchange of visits would impress Khrushchev with America and keep East-West discussions going in the face of the collapse of the Geneva talks on Germany. But Nixon's trip brought no expectation of any immediate turnabout in Kremlin policy in the cold war, which the administration figures could last another 25 to 50 years.

Nixon, who already had cabled back lengthy reports during his two-week tour of the Soviet Union and Poland, made a personal report to Eisenhower during a 75-minute conference at the White House Wednesday.

He will review the trip again at a Cabinet meeting Friday.

There was no immediate plan for a public address to the nation, but Nixon spoke informally on a national radio-TV broadcast after his sleek jetliner had arrived from Warsaw Wednesday.

He told of friendly receptions he had received among the people of the two countries, and said they want peace. He urged also that Khrushchev, when he visits this country, be received courteously and without hostile demonstrations.

Nixon hurried to the White House after a roaring airport welcome. Eisenhower was not at the airport, but among the police-estimated throng of 3,500 greeters were administration and Republican bigwigs and the ambassadors from the Soviet Union and Poland.

GOP boosters waved a big sign: "All America is proud of Pat and Dick."

Nixon Backers Still Confident

Rockefeller Impresses Some State Heads

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Richard M. Nixon's backers remained confident today that a majority of the nation's Republican governors support the vice president for their party's 1960 presidential nomination.

The GOP state executives generally were reluctant to express public preferences during the 51st Annual Governors' Conference, which wound up its business Wednesday. But the impact of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on his party colleagues was obviously less favorable than Nixon's friends had feared it would be.

Rockefeller edged somewhat closer to contesting for the 1960 GOP nomination in public and private utterances here. At times he had the appearance for a man who is being convinced that he ought to make a try for it. At others he was as hesitant as he has seemed to be for months.

The word now is that Rockefeller will decide about Nov. 1 whether he ought to take on Nixon. And he will do that only if he is convinced that the vice president seems likely to be defeated by a Democrat and that he, Rockefeller, has a better chance to keep the White House in Republican hands.

Rockefeller impressed his fellow chief executives as a forceful, alert man, willing to take on any comers who challenge his political philosophy.

He did this with Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, another Republican, in a sharp verbal exchange over federal intrusion into gubernatorial authority. There was no umpire available to judge who won the argument. But it seemed safe to say that if Rockefeller should become a candidate

2 Ohio Teamsters Accused by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top Ohio Teamsters have been accused of illegal actions by the Senate Rackets Committee.

The committee said Wednesday that N. Louis (Babe) Triscaro, president of Teamsters Local 436 in Cleveland, and William Presser, president of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters, also of Cleveland, are warmly defended by James R. Hoffa, Teamsters president.

A report filed with the Senate Committee criticized Triscaro's handling of union money, and, among other things, Presser's activities as a juke box man in Cleveland. The report, however, did not specify what actions of the two were considered illegal by the committee.

Eisenhower Will Ask Effective Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower joins battle tonight with a divided and quarreling Congress over the future shape of legislation to curb labor racketeering and abuses.

With the labor controls issue coming to a head in the House next week, Eisenhower arranged to go before the nation at 6:30 p.m. EST tonight over major radio and television networks. He is exected to urge stricter controls over labor unions than the House Labor Committee has proposed and the Senate has passed.

Announcement of his plans immediately stirred up demands among some House Democrats for equal air time to voice their disagreement. The networks, however, were reserving a decision until they hear what Eisenhower has to say.

Not since the tumultous days of 1947, when the 80th Congress enacted the Taft-Hartley Act, has Congress been so bitterly at odds over labor legislation.

With tensions mounting, the House Rules Committee openen wide the door Wednesday to a free-for-all battle when the issue reaches the floor next Tuesday.

The committee, which decides how legislation is to be handled, decreed no limits on the amendments or substitute proposals which can be offered or on parliamentary moves that can be made. The week-long battle starts Tuesday.

Eisenhower is expected to try to rally public support for a measure sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich). It would outlaw all form of secondary boycotts and provide jail sentences for union officials who deny rank and file union members the exercise of their rights.

Council Told At Leetonia of Gas Rate Hikes

LEETONIA — An increase of one-half cent per 1,000 cubic feet of gas was announced at Village Council meeting Wednesday, according to a communication from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The rate increase will become effective on Sept. 1.

President of Council, Jensie Nicolette presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Ralph Kennedy.

Clerk M. P. Burick reported receipt of $6,867.54 during the month of July. The revenue includes $164.05 from the mayor for fines and licenses; $2,890, real estate tax; $135.60, parking meters; $976, gasoline excise tax; $2,308.89, personal property tax; $279.50, from Fairfield Township for fire protection; and $113.50, cemetery

Councilmen voted to pay $2,000 on the $6,500 note at the Citizens Savings Bank.

James Altomare and Frank Guido were present at the meeting to report that a petition is being solicied to get Pine St. paved. It was pointed out that the Village owns 285 feet of the street. In addition to its own frontage, the village will be responsible for the paving in front of vacant lots. The estimated cost to the village for this project is $4,000.

The project will be studied by the street committee in view of the fact that the village's share will have to be paid in cash, which is not available.

Councilmen James Ciminelli, Dan Cullinan, Richard Carney and Victor Hedl, Solicitor Edward Greenamyer and Street Commissioner Richard Kleinknecht attended the meeting.

Man Shoots Three Others, Self and Lives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus man killed his estranged wife, her aunt and uncle with a shotgun late Wednesday night, police said. He then turned the gun on himself, blasting a hole in his chest, but he still clung to life early today.

Dead are Mrs. Virginia Samuels, 39; Mrs. Sallie King, 49, and Charles King, 47, who lived on Columbus' East Side.

Their assailant was William Samuels, 40.

Police, summoned by neighbors, found one of the women in the bedroom of the house. The others were sprawled on the kitchen floor.

The 12-gauge shotgun, held together by adhesive tape, lay on the kitchen table.

Neighbors said that Mrs. Samuel had been living with her aunt and uncle.

Unexplained was a relatively new shotgun propped against the kitchen wall. Indications were that it had not been fired. Neither were investigators able to explain how Samuels was able to fire and reload his weapon so rapidly that none of the victims could escape.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, Franklin County coroner, said Samuels stood little chance for survival. Detectives were at St. Anthony Hospital waiting to quesion he man should his condition permit.

Bolt Struck Mrs. Wetzel While Golfing

Mentor Woman Tells of Being Hit by Lightning

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—They say lightning never strikes twice in the same place. But after you've been hit once, you don't like to depend on what they say.

Until a bolt of lightning struck her down on a golf course green July 29, Mrs. Gordon Wetzel of nearby Mentor always enjoyed thunderstorms.

Now, lying in bed at Euclid-Glenville Hospital, the 33-year-old mother of three wonders whether she ever again will enjoy hearing the rumble of the summer thunder shower and watching the tree tops bend and sway.

Mrs. Wetzel's hearing was impaired by the lightning bolt that glanced off her body and raveled the head of the 7-iron which grounded the electric current. Her clothing was ripped apart—zipper metal twiwsted, and part of her synthetic fiber shorts melted.

"And my hair is still awful," she added. "It's all singed and matted. I'll probably end up with a crew cut."

"I didn't feel the lightning hit me, she recalled of that afternoon at the 15th hole of Lost Nation Golf Course. "I didn't feel anything until I woke up so short of breath I thought maybe it was my heart. I couldn't understand what had happened."

Her arms and legs "started to feel heavy—so heavy I coudln't move them," she remembered. Then came searing pain.

The fingers of her left hand were roasted and split open. The hand now is in a cast on which her husband, circulation manager of the Painesville Telegraph, has printed: "I love you."

"I like to think it was God's plan," said Mrs. Wetzel. But I'm still dumbfounded."

Movie Tough Mitchum Gets Irish Shiner

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Movie tough guy Robert Mitchem turned the other cheek when an Irishman swung on him. For this unaccustomed mildness, Mitchum had a black eye today.

Mitchum, in Ireland making a film, told the story to newsmen between scenes at the studio near here.

"I'd just gone into a hotel to have a drink," he said, "when a short Irishman came up and demanded my autograph."

The actor said he asked the man to wait until he had a drink.

"But he didn't want to wait," said Mitchum, "and told me so."

The actor replied by scrawling a rude phrase across the man's autograph book, and signing it "Kirk Douglas — per Robert Mitchum."

The autograph hunter went away. But when he read what Mitchum had written he became infuriated.

"The next thing I knew," said Mitchum, "he was standing in front of me and throwing a fist at my right eye."

The 6-foot, 180-pound Mitchum stared at the Irishman and said: "Buddy, if that's as good as you can do, don't try it any more."

The autograph hunter went away and returned with two friends.

Mitchum grabbed one man by his coat lapels and butted him—head against head. The trio retreated and shortly thereafter the police arrived and questioned everybody in the bar—but made no arrests.

Mueller Appointment Passed by Committee

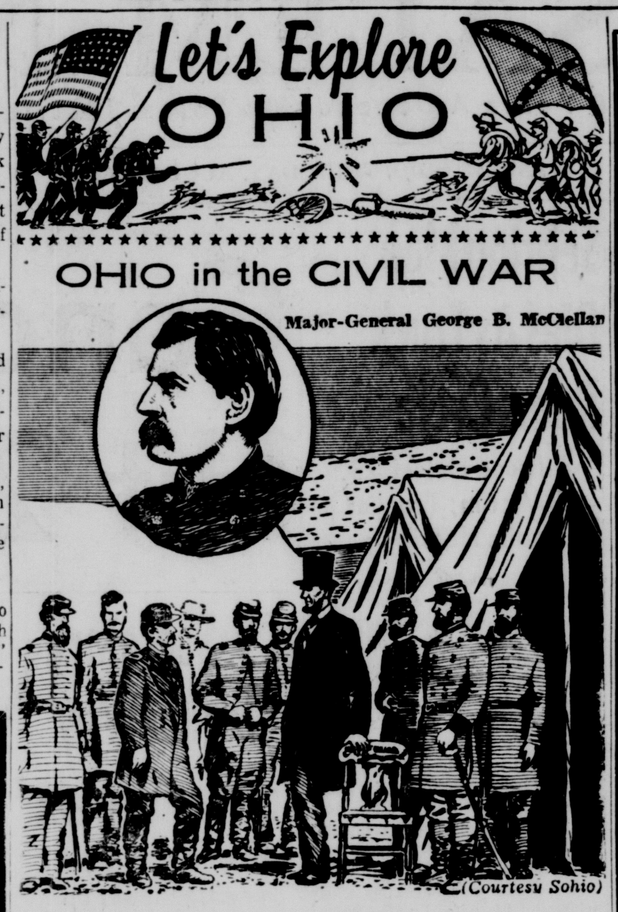
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee today unanimously approved Frederick H. Mueller's nomination to be secretary of commerce — a post left open by the Senate's rejection of Lewis L. Strauss.

The committee acted immediately after a two-hour public hearing.

Mueller's nomination, submitted by President Eisenhower July 21, now goes to the Senate for confirmation — probably Thursday or Friday.

A former Grand Rapids, Mich., manufacturer, Mueller has been has been acting secretary of com- acting secretary of commerce since June 30.

Cape Cod, Mass., was once so thinly settled that a house with a shed was called a "village."



The evening of Sept. 17, 1859, Abraham Lincoln, candidate for the office of President of the United States, made a speech from the balcony of the house in the Fifth Street Market Place in Cincinnati.

Probably in the audience was a short statured young man who was vice president of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad whose office was nearby. Who would have believed that night that this gangling Illinois attorney would win election to the highest office in the nation and that only two years later he would name the railroad executive from Ohio, George B. McClellan, to the post of commanding general of the Army of the Potomac whose assignment was to save Washington and the country in the Civil War?

No one could have predicted that President Lincoln would later relieve McClellan of his command and that the General would be reassigned to the job and be visited by the President on the site of the Union victory at the battle of Antieteam. (Shown in this illustration.)

Even more remarkable is the fact that the next time Lincoln campaigned for the Presidency in 1864, his opponent was this same Major General George B. McClellan.

This year is being celebrated in Ohio as the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's birth and in 1961, we will observe the Centennial of the Civil War.

McClellan, a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, was a captain in the regular army before becoming a railroad man. At the outbreak of the Civil War he was appointed Major General of the Ohio Militia and quickly became a Major General in the regular army, "a jump in rank so amazing that the former Captain had difficulty in believing the truth." He was probably the most controversial military figure in the Civil War and this controversy continues to this day among the students of that War.

Students of politics will remember that Lincoln became President because four delegates to the Ohio delegation at the Chicago Convention of 1860 changed their votes on the third ballot from Ohio's Governor Chase to Lincoln giving him the necessary majority to make him the Republican candidate.

Knisely to Seek Decision on Law's Constitutionality

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Clarence H. Knisley, former state treasurer, said today he plans a court test of a new law authorizing state retirement systems and the Workmen's Compensation Fund to invest in advance purchases of land for highways.

He said an action would be filed in the Ohio Supreme Court after the new law goes into effect 90 days after Tuesday's signing by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

DiSalle asked the Legislature for the law to aid highway planning. The state would buy the land for highway right-of-way when construction plans are complete, allowing the purchasers a profit, under provisions of the act.

Interim purchasers would be operators of the funds of the public employes, teachers and school employes and the Workmen's Compensation Fund.

Knisley said his suit will ask an injunction to prevent purchases pending court determination of the new law's constitutionality.

Laotian Army Troops Recapture Jungle Outposts

VIENTIANE, LAOS (AP)-Laotian army troops have recaptured all jungle military outposts earlier abandoned to Communist forces in Phongsaly province next to North Viet Nam, the Laotian Defense Ministry announced today.

A communique claimed government forces inflicted severe losses on Communist-led Pathet Lao rebel bands in fighting along the border opposite the famed Indochinese battle site of Dien Bien Phu.

No casualty figures were released.

Some advance lookout posts in the Sam Neua province are still in Communist hands but the Laotian forces are still intact, the ministry said.

Prime Minister Phoui Sananikone Tuesday declared a state of emergency in five of Laos' 10 provinces and placed them under military rule.

The Pathet Lao was supposedly dissolved earlier this year and its leader joined the government.

Organization's Officials Vague on This

How Long Is the Sword of NATO?

Editor's Note—How long and how sharp is the sword NATO maintains for the protection of Europe? In this third article in a series of four, an Associated Press reporter who asked questions at NATO command throughout Central Europe describes NATO's Central European counter-punch and what it's matched against.

By BEM PRICE

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —Maned aircraft and some missiles constitute the striking power —the sword—of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

When you begin asking specific questions about the length of the sword and thetempe r of its cutting edge, NATO officials become vague. On a month-long tour of European commands, I frequently was referred to some other echelon which—it usually turned out—referred me to still another in an endless chain.

What the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe, considers an adequate air umbrella for Central Europe has never been announced.

There are 30 short range missile battalions in Europe. The goal is 100 such battalions by 1963.

At the moment the heaviest missile counterpunch available to the Allies on the continent itself consists of two Redstone missile groups attached to the U.S. Army, Europe, command at Heidelberg.

A Redstone group contains two batteries and each battery has one firing section. In brief, the Army could launch about four Redstones with atomic warheads simultaneously and about two to three hours later could launch another four.

The U.S. Air Force has a squadron of Matador missiles near Sembach, Germany. They are currently being replaced with the 650-mile range, subsonic Mace-A missile, a sort of unmaned bomber.

In December 1957 the NATO council agreed in principle to gird Europe for push-button warfare, using primarily U.S. developed intermediate range ballistic missiles of 1,500 mile range.

An unknown number of such missiles now are deployed near the continent in England.

As for the rest of Central Europe, only the Netherlands has indicated a willingness to hav IRBM launching sites built on her soil.

When NATO came into being the defensive air cover for Central Europe consisted of 400 aircraft, mostly piston-engine types.

Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, commander in chief of the Allied forces in Central Europe, estimates that he now can muster between 1,500 and 2,000 jet aircraft—fighter - bombers and fighter - interceptors. The ratio of interceptors to bomber is secret.

For long range striking power, the Allies can bring to bear the deep penetration capabilities of the U.S. Air Force's Strategic Air Command, which has bases in England, North Africa, Turkey and Spain.

Some Allied forces, especially American, maintain a round-the-clock alert. A certain number of planes and pilots are kept in a constant state of runway readiness.

The NATO air picture was hurt by French refusal to allow atomic bombs to be stored on her soil unless she is given atomic know-how and control of the bombs.

Reinforcing the NATO air forces is the fast-growing West German air force. At present the Germans have about 350 of the subsonic F84 Republic built and some F86 Lockheed jets.

The British have contributed 250 Canberra bombers and Hawker-Hunter supersonic interceptors to the Nato sword force.

The French have declined to integrate their air force into the Mystere IVs and F86s in Germany.

By and large, the U. S Air force, equipped with "century series" aircraft—F100s through F104s —constitutes the backbone of the defensive and counter-offensive air forces in Central Europe.

The Danes, Belgians and Dutch have small forces, flying mostly F84s and F86s.

East of the Iron Curtain in the satellite nations and along the Russian border 300 airfields are reported. The Soviets are said to have a 20,000 all-jet air force, including 5,100 medium bombers and 200 long range heavy bombers.

The Russians also are said to be building a number of missile launching sites for their 700-mile range M103 missile in the satellite nations and pads for their 1,500-mile missile, the T2, along their western borders.

Added up, this means that the Soviets probably have a missile and air superiority over the Allies as of today.

Neither side has much of an air defense capability though it is believed that the Russians are rushing production of an air defense missile similar to the U. S. made Nike-Ajax and Nike-Hercules, both of which are designed to provide intense defense for a relative small area.

Next: Chain of command.

Too Dangerous a Dream

Bitter-enders carping against the exchange of visits between President Eisenhower and Premier Khruschev are going to have a bad time.

They never dreamed they would live to see the time when it would seem natural and desirable for both the president and the vice president of the United States to be exchanging official visits with their counterparts in the Soviet Union.

They never dreamed they would be witnesses to a warming of relations in the "cold war" whose animosities and fears have been one of the principal motivations of the trouble postwar era.

From their point of view, any improvement in relations with the top figures of the Soviet Union will have to be sought at the expense of principle.

They are aware of no expediencies that would justify the lightest surrender of their inflexible view that the Soviet Union must be held at arm's length; that there simply is no safe way to do business with a Communist.

These are the people who had fits when Deputy Premier Mikoyan came here. They made their displeasure obvious when Deputy Premier Kozlov, came here. They disapproved of Vice President Nixon's visit to Russia. They will go to any lengths to make it obvious they disapprove of Premier Khrushchev.

They will make themselves ridiculous. But they will not be entirely wrong.

AMERICANS who have a dream of rapprochement with the Soviet Union are capable of making fools of themselves. They are capable of sacrificing the dignity that is America's most precious asset.

They are capable, moreover, of dreaming, as Franklin Roosevelt once dreamed, that they can charm the No. 1 Communist into a mood of sweet surrender; Mr. Roosevelt is supposed to have said once that he would "housebreak" Josef Stalin.

That is too dangerous a dream for any American to have about the Communist conspiracy, dedicated now, as it always has been, to the destruction of everything it cannot dominate.

Communism is not only economics but religion to its dedicated followers. In the 20th century world there is nothing that can match it in discipline and intensity — and the premier of Communist Russia is its foremost advocate.

The White House is taking a calculated risk in an effort to ease some of the tensions of the cold war. It is gambling on the probability that most of the American people will understand that the way to deal with the top Communists is to judge them by what they do, never by what they say.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER and his advisers are betting on the good sense of their countrymen to receive Premier Khrushchev with dignity, remembering that he is the head of a great nation whose people are friendly to them but whose government has yet to prove by a single overt act that it, too, would like to be friendly.

There should be no illusions about "housebreaking" Nikita Khrushchev.

He did not get to be Russia's No. 1 Communist by being susceptible to people who want to train him to be anything but what he is — the tough boss of the toughest international conspiracy of the 20th century.

Vice President Nixon's Early Foot

It is no secret now that Vice President Nixon on his Russian visit has brought off the slickest stroke of political business since he turned disaster into triumph with hi vow-of-integrity speech in the 1952 campaign.

This is apart from, though not entirely separate from, his high-level diplomatic mission. To the extent that he has improved his attractiveness as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination by the way he has handled himself in Russia, he may have improved the prospects of more harmonious relations with the Soviet Union.

Premier Khrushchev and his advisers are just as aware as anyone else accustomed to testing the direction of the political wind that they may have been hobnobbing with the next president of the United States at the same time they were entertaining the current vice president.

A citizen-voter cannot help but remember how New Deal Democrats used to make political capital of Franklin Roosevelt's ability to get along with men like Stalin and Churchill on easy terms and that one of Dwight Eisenhower's selling points when he was being sold to the country in 1952 was his familiarity with Very Important Personages abroad.

MR. NIXON has the early foot in this respect in the 1960 race. More than any other American who has had the benefit of the Moscow dateline, he has made the impression of talking as much as he listened; he has been a positive advocate. And as the half hundred reporters who are with him are pointing out in amazement, he is as irrepressible a campaigner on his Russian tour as he is at home.

It is as though he had been given a chance to warm up for the big game ahead by practicing in another contest. One correspondent, James Reston of The New York Times, calls it the "first innovation in American politics since the women's vote." Reston suggests Mr. Nixon has not been so happy since the resignation of Harold Stassen.

Everything a politician does has bearing on his standing as a politician; that is obvious. The trick is to make it have favorable bearing.

Mr. Nixon's forthright behavior under trying circumstances in a country whose leaders are plainly in a mood to achieve a working basis of economic harmony with the United States, if they can do it without losing any of their ideological identity, has helped him as a politician.

EVEN MORE than that, it has helped the Republican party's prospects for 1960. It is certain that the party's presidential nominee, whether he is Richard Nixon or someone else, will have to come up and exceed the very favorable image of Richard Nixon that has been brought to a new degree of attractiveness by his Russian visit.

There is beginning to be a new kind of talk in U.S. political circles. It is remindful of a neww kind of talk being heard in the American League.

Circumstances alter cases; that is the new theme. The New York Yankees were walkaway favorites in the American League until circumstances altered cases. The Democrats were favored to win both houses of Congress and go into the presidential contest with an edge in the polls until Mr. Nixon staged his warmup campaign in Russia. A new circumstance has come into existence.

It's jumping to conclusions that spoils the reading of good books.

It won't be long until the bathing beaches will look like a lot of magazine covers.

Wet paint on a chair is what makes people sit down to find out if it's dry.

A lot of running down results when a group of gossips start building up rumors.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The big man on the committee trying to find the causes of the shocking brutalities, exceeding the tactics of primitive savage in streets, parks and schoolyards, dropped into our house. "Where do our young people and adults get such frightful ideas of decent behavior?" he demanded. (The TV wrestling show was on and at this point one wrestler kicked the other in the stomach, knocked him down, jumped on him and stuck his thumb in his eye, while the referee lit a cigarette and waved to children watching the telecast.)

"Our committee is going all-out in an effort to explain the shocking assaults all over the land," admitted the caller sadly. "It's a very difficult problem." (Now the fallen grappler freed himself by chewing off his opponent's middle finger. He slammed him into a corner and slugged him again and again despite the fact the opponent's hands were at his side.

THE REFEREE was asking a motherly spectator not to get bored, as the show would get exciting later on.)

"Daily we read of kids cruelly beating up other kids in defiance of every code of human decency," our distressed friend went on. "What is influencing them?" (Here one wrestler threw the other over the ropes out of the ring, chased him around the arena and floored him with a sportswriter's table. Women and children in the ringside audience cheered wildly.)

"I think our fight against this barbaric, ghoulish brutality needs a new slogan, a presidential proclamation and, of course, a slam at parents," said our friend. (Now one wrestler pinned the other to the floor whereupon a friend leaped into the ring and beat the fallen man into insensibility with a wooden chair, while the referee posed for a TV closeup registering unconcern.)

"Know what I think," asked our friend, who didn't seem to be paying any attention to the show.

"No," we said, "but you and your committee had better start noticing the glorification of foul plays by pro wrestling on family TV sets. And you might ask TV biggies about their codes of good conduct."

HAWAIIAN ELECTION was decided by a "straw vote," obviously. And we heard of a voter who was late to the polls because his surfboard broke down.

Roger Blough, U.S. Steel chief, started out to be a small-town schoolteacher, then decided to study for the ministry and finally switched to law. As a young attorney he attracted attenion of he steel company head, who hired him as a company counsel.

Jim Farley is reported favored by Gov. Rockefeller, as a member of trotting track commission. Jim was once a boxing czar, and there is more "boxing" in one trotting race than in a month's Garden fights.

Names for new Gotham ball club are pouring in. They included "Moppets" (for youth), the "Crashers" (for sudden entrance into big league uninvited), "The Dusters," "Amsterdams," "Metropoles," "Space Cadets." "Hot Rods" and "Gullivers." With three leagues in operation fans and players may need Baedekers as well as score-cards.

"Nixon In Siberia" headline. You can't imagine the joy some politicians get out of this.

When Is Summit Not Summit?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's ideas on diplomacy go back to the 19th century. That explains in part his lack of eagerness for a summit conference and the great, free-rein he gave his late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Some of his views, not stated publicly, can be given here on excellent authority. Others he has expressed at his news conferences. His ideas are in the numbered paragraphs below.

1. He does not like the modern development of diplomacy—summit conferences—and considers it a step backward for the heads of state to spend their time on work that belongs to specialists, like foreign ministers.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is the advocate of summit conferences. Now British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan backs the idea. Khrushchev considers foreign ministers messenger boys and says only the heavyweights can get things done.

2. Eisenhower prefers seeing foreign ministers enjoy the exercise of the great authority given them in the 19th century. He says their governments normally try to establish limits within which they can negotiate.

Dulles, who ran American foreign affairs like a one-man show, was given a freer hand by Eisenhower than any American Secretary of State enjoyed in this century. But he insisted that Eisenhower approve every move before he made it.

3. Eisenhower considers the congress of Vienna in 1814-15, called to reorganize Europe, after the downfall of Napoleon, an example of foreign ministers' exercising the ultimate in authority, both in negotiating and in making agreements.

Some historians, judging from their appraisal of the Congress of Vienna, might think Eisenhower chose an unfortunate example of what foreign ministers can do when they have the ultimate in authority.

4. He has cited as an example of what he doesn't like about summit conferences the 1807 meeting between Napoleon and Czar Alexander I of Russia on a raft in the River Niemen near Tilsit.

That was a meeting between a bamboozler, Napoleon, and a half-baked mystic, Alexander, who at firt admired each other, talked of dividing the world up between them, and then wound up fighting each other.

Khrushchev has been trying for more than a year and a half to get Eisenhower into a conference with him. At first the President was downright reluctant. Then he seemed to yield a bit.

Lately he has been saying he'd go to the summit if the foreign ministers, discussing the Berlin problem at Geneva, showed some progress. He has never said precisely what he considers progress.

There's a chance a summit meeting might make things worse instead of better. And there has been no tangible result from the first summit meeting Eisenhower had in 1955 with Khrushchev and the then Soviet Premier, Nikolai Bulganin.

These may be factors in his hesitancy about trying it again. But the memory of the meeting between Napoleon and Alexander seems to be high in his wariness about a second summit get-together. He has referred to it repeatedly.

Napoleon had so scrambled Europe — changing governments, unseating old kings, making new ones — that after his defeat and exile the crowned heads of Europe called the Congress of Vienna to undo and redo what he had done.

The congress made Europe safe for kings for years. Frontiers were rearranged without any concern for the ordinary people involved. They didn't have any say anyway. Only the kings and their foreign ministers did.

H. G. Wells went further. He called the results of the congress a "crazy tangle, an outrage on the common sense of mankind."

One thing is certain: no American Congress would ever let an American secretary of state have the kind of blank check the ministers at Vienna used. But they were not answerable to a Congress. They worked for kings.

Blight Fighter

By TRUMAN TWILL

This is the time of summer in Rosy Fingered Dawn when a weekend farmer gets around to mowing the meadow. This is a form of rural blight-fighting.

Under ideal conditions, it would be done by a professional meadow-mower on a big tractor with a 10-foot sickle bar that can slice through anything that grows. No weed or grass can bind it or stall it.

But conditions are not ideal in weekend farming, which is one of its pleasures. There is a challenge to it — and no challenge is more peremptory than that of a ragged meadow to a walking tractor with a three-foot sickle bar.

A walking tractor, for the benefit of those who don't know, is a two-wheeler guided by handlebars. It may or may not have a sulky that can be attached to it for sit down work. Either way, it is a walking tractor.

Its meadow-mowing potential is limited. One limit is the density of the material to be mowed. Another is the terrain. Still another is the moisture content of the grass and weeds; they need to be moisture-free or they will bind in the knives.

And finally the potentiality is limited by the endurance of the operator, because riding a sulky is out of the question in tough mowing. And that is why it became a matter of considerable interest to realize at the end of a nine-hour stretch of pacing behind a walking tractor that upward of 30 miles had been covered, most of it under trying circumstances.

From somewhere has come a kind of grass that is almost impervious to a small sickle-bar mower; it was the most trying circumstance. Every time the mower came to a patch of this wiry stuff, it choked and stalled. It had to be pulled free, started, cleared of the grass and backed up for a fresh running start.

Despite the fact the knives had been sharpened before the job began, they were no match for this unexpected antagonist.

People who do not know what happens to meadows when they turn ragged want to know why the sheep that kept on the place to mow the grass do not take care of the problem, themselves. It is because there is a limit to what a sheep can mow down.

They operate on an underbite system. Their lower teeth close against the bone-hard surface of their upper jaw to bite off grass and leaves. They have no upper teeth to bite with. Thus, there are kinds of grass that cannot be eaten by sheep. Neither can they eat thistles or any fibrous weeds. And they will not touch spearmint.

Consequently, it takes a certain amount of mowing to keep meadows from getting coarse with weeds and rubbish. And the amount of time it takes is one of the challenges of weekend farming.

At 30 miles a day to make a dent in the problem of keeping a few acres in shape, there just are not enough days to go around. But as the old pro who farms the next place full time said one day while leaning on a black locust fencepost with his chin cupped in his hands, "Some ways, it's foolish to do it. Come winter, the storms will level off the whole thing anyway. It will be slick as a golf course come next spring whether you mow it or not."

Who Won?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Soviets Wanted 'Summit' But U.S. Didn't

A fascinating "poker game" has been going on for several weeks now and the big question is: Who won — Khrushchev or Eisenhower?

David Lawrence

The reasons behind the invitation by the President to the Soviet Premier are by no means clear and it is not yet possible to say which one was outmaneuvered.

But these facts are known — that the Soviet premier wanted a summit conference and the United States didn't, though Britain was favorable and France was somewhat indifferent. The Foreign Ministers Conference at Geneva as devised on the theory that, if any substantial progress were made, this would justify a summit conference.

But Nikita Khrushchev is a stubborn man. He didn't want a foreign ministers conference. He sent his foreign minister to Geneva but with instructions to make no agreements there. Gromyko complied 100 per cent. The idea was to force a summit meeting on the pretense that only the heads of government could negotiate agreements.

Then the Western Allies recessed the Foreign Ministers Conference. President Eisenhower decided on another approach. He thought that maybe an "exploratory" consultation might be held between him and the Soviet Premier.

If Mr. Khrushchev wanted to come to the United States on a visit — it had been said that ' was his real reason for pressing for a summit conference — then an invitation to him alone to come to America might serve the broad purpose. At least it would feel out the situation for the United States and then it could be determined whether any progress sufficient to warrant a summit conference had been made.

CORROBORATION of this analysis is to be derived in part from the President's press conference on Monday of this week, when he was asked:

"The impression has somehow been received, Mr. President, in considering a possible visit by Mr. Khrushchev to the United States, that before you would isue an invitation to him, there would have to be some evidence of 'give,' in the sense of 'give and take 'on the part of Mr. Khrushchev on Western principles. May we take it that there has been some such indication?"

The President replied:

"No, I can't — I don't think you can say that, Mr. Belair. This is what I have said — that the holding of a summit meeting and negotiation, that that would be, to my mind, absolutely impractical and, as the State Department says, unproductive unless we could count on some positive results. But I would say these, so far as our discussions of mutual problems, are exploratory rather than any attempt at negotiation."

Mr. Eisenhower revealed that "Some time back," he had suggested to the State Department that he believed, "in the effort to melt a little bit of the ice that seems to freeze our relationships with the Soviets, that possibly a visist such as I now have proposed would be useful, and we studied this thing and, in early July, I initiated the correspondence that finally brought about an agreement."

Under the circumstances, it now is apparent just why Foreign Minister Gromyko wouldn't agree to anything at Geneva. As long as a consultation with the President of the United States was being planned, the Soviet government felt that nothing further need be done for the present.

Conversely, it is possible that Mr. Eisenhower hoped his gesture might eventually have a beneficial effect.

APARENTLY he still held to that view even in his special conference with the press this very week, when he said:

"The visist itself (between Khrushchev and the President) has no direct connection with any possible later summit meeting. I, of course, would hope that the mere announcement would inspire the foreign ministers to a greater activity, and probably some greater effort at conciliation, so that there might be results before Wednesday, when they temporarily adjourn — at least that would justify the scheduling of such a later meeting, at what time I don't know. But in any event, even if they have to reassemble, I would hope they could do that, if they found it reasonable and proper.

"Now I merely want to make clear that this is a personal visit for the purposes that I have outlined, and are given in the statement, but with the hope that it will do something to promote understanding and possibly progress toward peace in the world."

THE KEY PHRASES in that comment are those that say there is "no direct connection" with the later summit meeting and that "this is a personal visist." But the impression is inescapable that the President tried hard to assuage the Soviet Premier with a promise of an exchange of personal visits, hoping that something good in return would come out of the Foreign Ministers Conference at Geneva or later in New York anyway.

There is some reason to believe that the Soviet Premier accepted the President's invitation rather suddenly, for a press association as late as Friday of last week reported as follows:

"The President has told some visitors that an invitation to Khrushchev is like a high card in a poker game, not to be dealt out without something in return. He has referred privately to the Foreign Ministers Meeting as a poker game."

As these lines were written, it was recognized that some move by Moscow that would seem to be a concession to the President's viewpoint might be in the offing.

If it came, the feeling was that this might have justified the maneuverings on both sides. If it didn't come, Mr. Eisenhower was represented as still hopeful of an eventual change for the better on the issues raised at the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference.

New York Herald-Tribune

Matter of Fact

Not all the leaders of the Revolutionary War were convinced at first that the colonies should be separated from Great Britain. John Jay, who was a successful lawyer, at first opposed separation, but when the Declaration of Independence was signed, he supported it loyally. After helping to draft the Constitution, Jay was offered his choice of cabinet positions by George Washington. Jay became the first Chief Justice of the U.S.

Beneath the tall modern buildings and highways of Mexico built by 20th century civilization lie the ruins of an ancient culture showing a high degree of development. In southern Mexico, the Mayas built palaces and pyramids now being unearthed from the thick jungle growths. They prove that Mexico was the home of the first civilization in North America, a civilization older, perhaps, than the Christian era.

So They Say

We've made 157 episodes of "Gunsmoke" and I'll bet I've seen less than 57 of them. Very often when I do watch I don't like myself. . .I can't believe it's me on that screen acting that badly.

—Jim Arness, TV's Matt Dillon.

I don't believe in the emperor sysem and I never have. It is absolutely wrong to build a 250-million-yen ($700,000) palace for Akihito while there is not enough money to build schools.

—Kensetsu Nakayama, Japanese student who halted carriage of crown prince during wedding procession.

Thoughts

And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold for they shall heap dust, and take it. — Habakkuk 1: 10.

Thou mayst from law, but not from scorn escape. The pointed finger, cold, averted eye, insulted virtue's hiss, thou canst not fly.— Charles Sprague.

Couple Wed In Ceremony In England

St. Mary's Church, Battersea, London, England, was the setting for the May 23 wedding of Miss Doreen Rose Mackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter William Mackett of 25 Badic Road, Battersea, and A1C James Richard Merriman, son of Mrs. Verna Merriman of Kensington, and the late Earl Merriman.

Vicar Rev. D. Gill performed the ceremony.

The brile was attired in a waltz-length gown of white lace, complemented by long, fitted sleeves. Her short bridal veil of white lace was held in place by a cap of brilliants. Tea roses and lilies of the valley formed her bridal bouquet.

The bride and a friend, Mrs. Robert Angel, designed and made the bridal gown.

The attendants' creations of apricot-colored shin-wa, styled with full bouffant skirts and scalloped necklines, were also made by the bride.

Miss Carol Mackett, sister of the bride, Miss Jean Giles and Miss Jennifer Turley were the bridesmaids. Their headpieces were coronets of white leaves. They carried bouquets of lilies of the valley, ribbon and lace.

The best man was A1C Huey C. Frye of RAF Station, Sculthorpe, England.

The mother of the bride chose a beige suit with white accessories and a corsage of tea roses.

The reception for 150 guests was held at Southlands Hall in Battersea.

Mrs. Merriman attended Ovenhill Secondary School and was employed as a seamstress in London. Her husband attended David Anderson High School in Lisbon, and is stationed with the Air Force as an aircraft mechanic at RAF Station, Sculthorpe, England.

The couple are residing at Thurlow House, Lodge Road, Heacham, Norfolk, England.

Credit Unions Offer Advantages to Members

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

"What is a credit union?" I've been assed.

A credit union is made up of a group of people who agree to save their money together and make loans to each other at low interest rates. They are private voluntary organizations, yet they are charterrd and supervised by the government.

There are several advantages to belonging to a credit union.

Here is one of the cheapest sources for a loan. The maximum rate charged is 1 per cent per month on the unpaid balance, which may work out to less than the cost of a bank loan.

Credit unions were founded at the turn of the century for the prime purpose of lending money to workers who came to cities and towns where industry was growing. Most of these new arrivals had no bank credit and needed small sums of money to get their households started. They wre at the mercy of unscrupulous lenders.

TODAY, PEOPLE BELONG to credit unions not just because they offer a good source of credit but to help them with their savings and insurance planning. Membership in these organizations generally is available for 25 cents and members are encouraged to buy shares usually in $5 and $10 denominations. From the interest eanred on loans, credit union members usually average a 4 per cent return on the money they invest.

Many credit unions insure their borrower's loans up to $10,000 without charge against death or total and permaneht disability. Frequently, insurance is available to double the savings of an insured member upon his death, up to $1,000.

Credit unions can afford to make cheap loans and pay a relatively higher rate of interest because they operate with low overhead. Frequently, their office space is donated and much of the paper work needed to run the credit union is performed by volunteers.

Most credit unions are members of the Credit Union National Assn. which operates as an affiliate of the CUNA Mutual Insurance Society, the 23rd largest life insuracne company in North America. At the end of last year, CUNA Mutual had 4.2 billion dollars of insurance in force, a 15 per cent increase over 1957.

TODAY, THERE ARE close to 20,000 credit unions operating in the U.S. serving 10.7 million people or 6.4 per cent of our population. Last year, these credit unions had total assets of 4.4 billion dollars and loans outstanding of 3.1 billion. In the past five years, credit union assets have more than doubled while the number of loans outstanding has almost tripled. In the period the average savings per member has increased from $283.22 to the current $366.33.

Of the total number of credit unions operating, some 32 per cent have been organized by the employes of manufacturing companies; more than 13 per cent serve government employes, 10 per cent workers in the transportation and utility industries, almost 6 per cent church groups, another almost 6 per cent teachers and school employes, more than 5 per cent members of labor unions and another 5 per cent wholesale and retail business employes.

Challenging credit union growth are the in-plant services being offered in many areas by banks. These offer plans under which company employes can save or borrow through payroll deductions.

WELLS TO QUIT

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — When he finishes a 10-day jail sentence started Wednesday, Frank E. Wells, 61, says he is "getting out of the lottery business" and going to Florida to operate a night club and tavern. Municipal Judge Harry Wykoff fined Wells $300, suspended 80 days of a 90-day jail sentence, and placed him on probation for a year on charges of promoting a lottery.

PARKING ALLOWED

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Frank Kryzan, reacting to complaints by downtown merchants of a rush hour parking ban started a month ago, says curb parking will be free and unlimited beginning Monday. Motorists will be able to park their cars on both sides of virtually every downtown street, even where meters are not provided, including truck and bus loading zones.

FIRE HITS BODY SHOP

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Eastlake Body Shop on East 103rd St. was hit by a $45,000 fire Wednesday. It started when a cutting torch exploded an automobile gasoline tank. There were no injuries, but nine autos were destroyed.

TRAIN HITS CAR

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A car driven by Mrs. Bryant A. Doyle, 36, of nearby Cuyahoga Falls, was hit by a Baltimore & Ohio train and knocked 300 yards down the tracks Wednesday. She suffered head and shoulder injuries, but her condition was reported as fair afterwards.

79 SHIPS GOING

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Lake Carriers Assn. reported today only 79 of the 301 bulk carriers in its members' fleets are now in operation. Others are laid up because of the steel strike, 23 of them in the harbor and at Cuyahoga River docks here.

COLLISION KILLS YOUTH

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — A head-on auto-truck collision on Ohio 5 east of here Wednesday killed Jay D. Hogle, 20, of Rt. 2, Conneaut. Harold Bennett of Laceyville, Pa., driver of an auto carrier with which Hogle's car collided, was in satisfactory condition.

LEGAL NOTICES

(NOTICE OF ELECTION ON ISSUE OF BONDS

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Council of the City of Salem, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 17th day of July, 1959, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said City of Salem at the GENERAL ELECTION to be held in the City of Salem, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the third day of November, 1959, the question of issuing bonds of said City of Salem in the amount of Three Hundred Fifty Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($350,000.00) for the purpose of engaging in and paying for a city-wide storm sewer project as provided by law.

The maximum number of years during which such bonds are to run is twenty-five (25) years.

The estimated average additional tax rate amounts to five and one-half cents ($0.055) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, which is fifty-five one hundredths (55/100) mills for each one dollar of valuation, outside of the limitation imposed by *Article XII, Section 2 of the Constitution, as certified by the County Auditor.

The Polls for said Election will open at 6:30 o'clock A.M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P.M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By Order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.

Highway May Not Go to County System

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An 18½-mile section of U. S. 40 across southern Licking County and part of Muskingum County may not be turned over to the county and local road systems, the State Highway Department said today.

The section will soon be replaced by the new east-west freeway, and the original plan—approved in August, 1956—was to turn the pavement of the present U. S. 40 over to the counties and incorporated areas through which it passes.

But the idea now is to make it Ohio 40, keeping it on the state highway system. At the same time, however, the state proposes to remove most of Ohio 68 from the system. The section in question primarily runs up the east side of Licking County from U.S. 40 at Brownsville to Ohio 79.

A hearing on the proposals will be held Friday in the Masonic Hall in Brownsville.

The new freeway will be opened to traffic from .8 mile west of Ohio 158 to a mile east of Ohio 668 when it is ready. The section of U. S. 40 it replaces is three and four-lane road.

TOO MANY EGGS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"There are just too many eggs," says the Market News Service. Farm prices averaging 30 cents a dozen are strictly borderline as far as any profit is concerned, a market spokesman adds. A further dip in prices may come in the next week.

WORK PERMIT NECESSARY

LISBON — Any county school student who contemplates on working, instead of finishing school must get a work certificate before school starts, according to Supt James L. McBride. They must apply at the county school office in the courthouse and must be at least 16-years old and have completed the seventh grade, McBride said.

CRASH IS FATAL

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Ralph Frary, 53, of Mount Vernon, was killed Wednesday when his car wrecked on Ohio 586, 15 miles north of here. The Highway Patrol said Frary's car swerved left of center sideswiping a truck driven by Charles Dickenson, 32, of Zanesville, who was not injured. Frary was field manager for the Brendel Oil Producing Co. of North Canton.

Columnists

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How would you like to be a columnist?

If not, you're a rare person.

The letter columnists get most often tarts somewhat as follows:

"I've been reading your column off and on for years and feel I could write one just as good, and probably better. How do I go about getting started?"

I usually reply, "It is first absolutely essential that you study Latin and Greek for 10 years, then learn to speak and write at least two other modern languages besides English."

This isn't exactly true, of course. But it does help to weed out a lot of possible future competitors.

All you actually need to become a columnist is two holes — one in your head, the other in the head of the publisher who gives you your chance.

The rest is easy — as chinning yourself with your eyeballs.

The public has the idea that it is simple to write a column every day. But Don Marquis, who did this chore for years until he repented and became a playwright, described it as "digging a daily grave."

The ailments of any trade or craft reflected its stress. The occupational ailments of column writing are ulcers, egomania, hydrophobia, mental hernia and snow blindness caused from long hours of staring at the same blank piece of paper in your typewriter.

Most of the seeming millions of people who yearn to be columnists have the idea they would live in a penthouse, and have a chauffeur-driven car. They dream of hobnobbing with Marilyn Monroe and giving advice to Bernard Baruch.

Well, most columnists actually see a penthouse only when they are invited to the home of a rich press agent. And as for Bernie Baruch, if he's ever called me for advise my phone must have been busy.

Does columning need any special equipment? No. Nothing beyond a two-pants suit. This is necessary because you have to spend long hours sitting in a swivel chair looking at the ceiling as you wait for an idea. That's hard on pants.

Don't let any columnist ever tell you he thinks up his own ideas. He doesn't. He just sits there until one falls off the ceiling.

The most exasparating are those who say to columnists:

"Sure I know you write a column. But what else do you do—in all your spare time?"

Columbiana Street Job Is Awarded to Snyder

COLUMBIANA — Village Council Tuesday night awarded a contract for a local street and alley resurfacing and seal-coating program to Robert Snyder of Hanoverton on his bid of 30 cents per square yard for the estimated 26,000 square yards of surface to be improved.

Snyder's bid was the lowestof three submitted on the project, and figures out to approximately $7,800.

Other bids were received from McCartney-Sampsell Co. of Youngstown, 34 cents per square yard, and Neff Resurfacing Paving Co. of Warren, 36 cents per square yard.

Snyder also was low bidder on a separate seal-coating project, that of Quincy Ave., which will run about $900 for 3,000 square yards. Guterba-Holzer Inc. of Columbiana offered the low bid of $3,995 on excavating and bringing to grade of Quincy Ave. in advance of the surface treatment.

The contract calls for work to start not later than Aug. 17 and be completed within six working days.

In another action, council, on the recommendation of the board of public affairs, accepted the $8,495 bid of Continental - Fremont Inc. of Fremont for cleaning, repainting and installing new riser and manholes in the 200,000-gallon water tank on the west side of town. The bid was considerably lower than two others received on the project.

Kay Kesslar Co. bid $11,487 on the job, and the Pittsburgh - Des Moines Co. offered a figure of $12,960. Because of the low bid, the board investigated Continental-Fremont and found it to be an old, established firm with good recommendations.

To finance the work Council approved an ordinance transferring $8,500 from the general water fund to the pipe and machinery fund.

WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS... LET ALONE THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

Chevy's the only car of the leading low-priced three that gives you the convenience of crank-operated vent windows. No awkward latches to fumble with . . . your knuckles and fingernails will appreciate it.

greater roominess

Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

bigger brakes

Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research.

full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

fresh styling

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

Drag Racing, Phone Pranks Now Crimes

103rd Ohio Assembly On Personal Conduct

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 103rd General Assembly got real personal about the personal conduct of some of Ohio's citizens.

It sent to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for signature a batch of new "thou shalts" and "thou shalt nots."

Drag racing, for instance, practically becomes a high crime with a driver point system penalty equal to that for drunk driving or second-degree manslaughter.

Cranks who insist on making obscene telephone calls to women will find the doors open—to jail cells, that is.

Persons who think it's fun to give false calls for police help will have the additional pleasure of paying stiff fines for the privilege.

Travelers, fishermen and sports spectators who have had the guilty feeling that they were violating the law by Sunday participation in these activities will have clear consciences as a result of partial repeal of the Sunday blue laws.

Epileptics, because of new medical understanding of the underlying causes of their problems, will be permitted to marry.

Radio and television broadcasters will have the same right as that enjoyed by newspaper and news service reporters to refuse to divulge the sources of their information.

Persons who dump trash on another's property will be risking fines as well as the property owner's wrath.

Youngsters 14 and 15 no longer will be able to obtain licenses to operate low-powered motor scooters, but those who already have the licenses will be permitted to keep them even though they have not reached 16.

Public employes, school employes and teachers who retired before June 19, 1955, will receive a 12 per cent increase in their pensions.

Race tracks damaged by fire will be able to transfer the dates granted them by the Racing Commission to another track.

The Legislature also set up state control over revolving budget agreements, decided to permit and regulate voluntary non-profit hospitalization corporations, increased fees for examination and registration of physicians.

And, as a means of helping the industrial and commercial growth of the state, the lawmakers permitted organization and operation of privately financed development corporations.

FBI Captures Two Escapees In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The FBI here is holding two men who admitted to police that they sawed their way out of jail in Newport, Ky., last week.

Held are Demphus Lewis, 37, of Camden, Ohio, who was under a four-year sentence for auto theft. 20-year sentence for robbery last Jan. 30 of a bank at Glencoe, Ky., and Elbert Wellman, 30, of Logan, W. Va., who was serving a

The pair were among seven men who escaped from the Kentucky jail last Tuesday and then eluded a maze of police roadblocks.

Police who seized the pair said they stopped an auto conta Wellman and Lewis when they saw it weaving down a street. Police said the men offered no resistance and admitted they were fugitives. The FBI took custody of the pair to charge them with interstate transportation of a stolen auto.

The car stopped by police was stolen last Tuesday from a service station in Norwood, Ohio, t FBI said. Norwood is a suburb of Cincinnati, across the Ohio River from Newport. The service station was also burglarized, the FBI said.

With the capture of Wellman and Lewis, only one of the seven Newport escapees remains free.

When police stopped Wellman and Lewis, two other men were the car. But they had nothing to do with the escape, the FBI said.

Small Iowa Town Takes Khrushchev Invitation In Stride

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — This little town in west central Iowa apparently is taking in stride the news that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may come here to visit farmer Roswell Garst next month.

"I've heard very little comment from the townspeople," said one of the leading citizens, Thomas Rogers, who edits the local weekly newspaper, The Enterprise.

"There's no indication so far that anyone is getting overly excited about it."

In talking to newsmen in Moscow Wednesday, Khurshchev said he had been invited by an American farmer named Garst to stay with him and that he probably would.

Garst lives in a big place on the outskirts of this town of about 1,700. His specialty is growing seed corn. He has visited the Soviet Union, has talked with Khrushchev and has sold the Russians seed corn.

Since 1955 several Soviet farm delegations have visited the Garst showplace.

Rogers said he know of no local plan that would involve a Khrushchev visit, and Garst said he had nothing special in mind except to show the Soviet leader some Iowa agriculture.

FERGUSON SENTENCED

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—John H. Ferguson, 41, of Dayton, was given two concurrent life sentences here after being found guilty on two charges of first-degree murder. A three-judge panel gave the verdict Wednesday.

Ferguson was convicted in the fatal shooting last Jan. 8 of his estranged wife, Martha Ann, 38, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Woods, 58. He was also found guilty of shooting to wound his wife's boy friend, Warren Cosey, 40, of Dayton, earlier that day.

: ARE SCALDED

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Two workmen were scalded Wednesday night when a tank filled with hot water overflowed at Copperweld Steel Corp. In fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital were William Meyers, 54, of Mineral Ridge, and William Kurinko, 33, of Warren.

IAM APPROVES PACT

CLEVELAND (AP)—The International Assn. of Machinists Lodge 1228 ratified a wage and pension agreement Wednesday night with Addressograph-Multigraph Corp., against which the union has been on strike since June 12. But the 1,900 production and maintenance workers at the company's Euclid plants will not return to work until a settlement is reached also with 700 office workers in Office Employes Local 49. The office workers are to vote on a settlement proposal Saturday.

This Bull Docile and Well-Behaved

"Duke" pulls his master, Alvin Walton, in a cart.

Generally speaking, bulls are stubborn, somewhat fierce and difficult to train but Alvin Walton of RD 3, Carrollton, has a Holstein bull, "Duke," that will perform in an animal act.

Duke can step on a pedestal 1½ feet high while carrying his owner on his back. In this position, he can balance himself on three legs, extending his right front foreleg as though to shake hands, while his owner stands erect in the saddle.

He also will bow and kneel at a command from Mr. Walton, who says Duke's most difficult feat is to step backwards.

Duke apparently loves to perform and is a regular "show off," his owner says. Crowds do not seem to bother him.

Nevertheless, Mr. Walton is extremely careful with the animal he hopes will be the sire of an outstanding dairy herd. Duke's father is "Weejoe," one of the sires owned by Northern Ohio Breeders Assn.

Mr. Walton and Duke have appeared at several rodeos and are backed for several fairs this fall. Despite many offers, Mr. Walton declares Duke is not for sale, and emphasizes he wouldn't trade him for the best automobile in the county.

Girl Injures Back In Fall From Horse

Joyce Arthur, nine - year - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arthur of RD 1, Hanoverton, suffered a possible back injury when she fell from a horse Wednesday afternoon .

She is reported in good condition at the Central Clinic.

BABY ALLIGATOR FOUND

EDMOND, Okla. (AP)—Fred L. Tanner found an alligator in his garage workshop here Wednesday night—a five inch baby alligator.

Tanner doesn't know where the little one came from. Neither do nearby Oklahoma City zoo officials, who said a count of alligator tails showed all were present.

Soil Bank Officers To Attend Meeting

Fverett Fishel of East Rochester, Earl Lora of Salem, and Mrs. Harry Bowman of Lisbon will attend the District 11 Soil Bank training meeting at Northfield Wednesday.

They will be instructed in procedure of signing up farmers for 1960 in the conservation reserve under the Soil Bank program.

Farmers interested in signing up for the 1960 program should contact the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation office Aug. 24 through Sept. 10, according to Mr. Lora, manager of the ASC Lisbon office.

BUYS PIQUA PAPER

PIQUA, Ohio (AP) — The Middletown News-Journal Wednesday became sole owner of The Piqua Daily Call.

The News-Journal announced it has acquired the late C. F. Ridenour's interests in a stock transaction, from Mrs. Mabel L. Ridenour.

The purchase ended a business association that began in 1919 when the News-Journal president, J. A. Chew of Xenia, and Ridenour, merged three Piqua newspapers. The firm operated The Piqua Call jointly until Wednesday.

'Down On The Farm'

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

Tips on Combatting Insects

Insect alerts for August, based on information received recently by Columbiana County Extension Agent Floyd Lower from R. P. Holdsworth Jr., extension entomologist at the Ohio State University, contains the following timely helps on insect control:

FACE FLIES — The big house fly that has been clustering on the faces of dairy and beer cattle is a new kind of fly in Ohio. Although it looks just like the house fly, it has different habits and is a cousin introduced from Europe. Reported first in North America at Nova Scotia in 1952. Asnear as they can tell this is the second year it has been numerous in Ohio.

We can give no guaranteed control method, but have some recent reports of success and failure. One farmer reports success controlling "face flies" on beef cattle with a chain oiler, using 5 per cent DDT in a mixture of half fuel oil and half new motor oil. Both calves and cows rubbed their heads against the chain and got considerable relief.

The success of oilers will depend on cattle being able to rub a generous quantity of either insecticide, or repellent off on their heads. The insecticide supply in oilers will need to be renewed every two or three days to be effective.

The use of stock sprays have been reported on dairy cattle with varying results, as giving only a few minutes relief on up to about three hours. Screw worm remedy containing three per cent lindane and 35 per cent pine oil was used on the university herd at the rate of one-half ounce per animal. It was painted on the forehead above, between and under the eyes, and it kept flies completely out of the eyes for two days and most flies out on the third day. It will be necessary to repeat treatment every three days.

LEAFHOPPERS on alfalfa — Much of the third growth alfalfa will be hard hit by the potato leafhopper. In contrast to last year, leafhopper populations are relatively high this year. When the third growth is about six inches high spray with 1½ quarts 25 per cent methozychlor emulsion concentrate or 1¾ pints 57 per cent malathion emulsion concentrate.

FLEAS — From now until fall, fleas are likely to be a nuisance in the home. This can happen when families go away from home on vacation and take the pet along. Fleas will continue to develop in the pets' bedding and mature while he house is empty. Whe none returns to his home he will find a housefull of hungry fleas which may attack humans, particularl y children.

In order to rid the house of the fleas it is necessary to treat the ca, or dog wih a dus conaining one of these: Pyrethrum, rotenone, methozychlor, or malathion; or to spray the pet with malathion. Spray the animal's quarters and bedding with two per cent malathion, or five per cent DDT. Adult fleas in the home can be destroyed with a good grade aerosol spray containing pyrethrum.

HORNETS and wasps — These pests frequently make their nests on, or near houses and can be a hazard to children, who may provoke them without realizing the consequences. If nest are accessible, toss in a tablespoonful of DDT, or lindane wettable powder, or drench the inside and outside of the nest with insecticide spray (DDT, lindane or malathion). Do this in the evening when the wasps or hornets are quiet.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (AP)—Young Kelly Hilton slipped on mossy rocks Wednesday and fell 125 feet to his death in Zion National Park in southwestern Utah.

The 17-year-old youth was on a hiking epedition with three companions to the Natural Bridge, which is about 1,000 feet above the foor of the huge canyon park.

Alaska's population is thinly scattered over its 586,400 square miles, there being about one person per 2.8 square miles.

Sept. 15 Is Deadline for School Levies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—School levies running indefinitely can be placed on election ballots next November but boards of education have a limited time for such action next month.

A new law, effective Sept. 10, makes unnecessary periodic renewal of voter-approved school levies inside the 10-mill limitation and allows such levies outside the 10-mill limit to run up to 10 years.

Officials said the new act set Sept. 15 as the deadline in any year for school boards to approve tax levies. Action by a two-thirds vote of school boards before that date requires election boards to place the issue before voters for final decision.

Officials explained further that the portion of a voter-approved levy inside the 10-mill limit would run indefinitely under the new law but that any portion outside could run no longer than 10 years. The tax levy resolution would specify the length of time the outside portion would run, they added.

DEAD FISH PROBLEM

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hundreds of dead fish floated late Wednesday in a foul-smelling film on the Big Miami River in Butler and Hamilton counties. John Walker, of the State Wildlife Divison declared the stench and the death of the fish were due to sewage dumped into the river upstream from here.

"We always have this condition after a heavy rain," Walker said. He asserted that if the sources of the pollution could be found, prosecution would be started.

The first organized professional baseball club was the Cincinnati Red Stockings, formed in 1869.

NOT WHATCHAMACALLIT, BUT DUBBIDOBBER — Aircraft worker Sarge Signer displays a dubbidobber, part of the seat-ejection mechanism of North American's experimental X-15 rocket plane. While working on the craft in Los Angeles, Signer found that the 10-cent part didn't have a name. People called it "whatchamacallit." Signer didn't like that and began calling it a "dubbidobber." Why? "It just looked like a dubbidobber," said Signer. Now the part is officially called that.

4 NEW CHURCHES

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Presbytery of Cincinnati will establish four new Presbyterian churches in the Greater Cincinnati area. Those four, along with one already set up in the Milford area, will fulfill the church's aim of five new congregations in three years. Money for the churches will come from the Presbyterian Expansion Fund.

FBI NABS FIFE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Donald Leon Fife, 37, of Huntington, W. Va., was arrested here Wednesday by FBI agents who charged he passed $10,000 in bad checks since April. The checks allegedly were cashed on a Catlettsburg, Ky., firm out of business for three years. Earlier this week Jack R. Burnley, 42, of Ceredo, W. Va., was nabbed at Huntington as an accomplice of Fife.

HEART ATTACK FATAL

LUSK, Wyo. (AP) — A Middletown, Ohio man, William Amburgey, 65, died Tuesday while driving on U.S. 85 about 15 miles north of here. He apparently suffered a heart attack. His wife, in the car, suffered a broken shoulder and chest injuries when the auto went out of control and hit the post office at Hat Creek. She is in fair condition in a hospital at New Castle, Wyo.

DR. MOYER DIES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Harvey Vernon Moyer, 65, chairman of the Department of Chemistry at Ohio State University, died here Wednesday. Moyer, who joined the university staff in 1929, was president of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma XI, national scholastic honorary societies, in 1946-47. He was a native of Salina, Kan.

Deaths and Funerals

William Hill Sheen

Funeral services were held July 22 in Rochester, N.Y., for William E. Hill Sheen, 30, of Rochester who died July 20 in Strong Memorial Hospital, following several months illness. Burial was in Hornell, N. Y., Rural Cemetery.

Born in Sebring March 7, 1929, he was the adopted son of Edith Raish Sheen of Rochester and the late William J. Sheen.

A 1950 graduate of Jefferson High School, he was employed by the Daw Drug Co. and the Walter Schlitzer Co. and was a member of the Moose Lodge in Rochester.

Survivors include his adopted mother, his mother, Mrs. Laura Hill of Columbus; a brother, Richard Hill of RD, Salem; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Alice Ricketts of Minerva; and two aunts, Mrs. John Marshall of Minerva and Mrs. Geneva Conley of Salem.

Theodore F. Thorne

Theodore F. Thorne, 55, of 821 E. 3rd St., died of complications Wednesday at 7:20 p.m. He had been ill one year.

Born March 1, 1904 in Wellsville, he was a son of W. T. and Mary Marshall Thorne.

He was a member of the Church of the Nazarene and he held the office of church treasurer for 16 years.

He lived in Salem 23 years. An iron worker, he was employed by the Towne Construction Co. of Canton for 13 years.

His wife, the former Pauline Ellis, whom he married Oct. 17, 1923, survives together with three daughters, Mrs. Jean Wilson, Mrs. Faye Shoff and Mrs. Vera Hough, all of Salem; three sons, Glenn, of Salem, Jack of Canton and Ted at home; three sisters, Mrs. W. S. Grafton of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. William Black of Wellsville and Mrs. E. S. Johnson of Steubenville; two brothers, Lodge of Lisbon and Bruce of Salineville; and nine grandchildren.

Funeral service will be Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at the Stark Memorial.

Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening at the Memorial.

Mrs. Emerson Bush

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Helen Bush, 61, of Garfield Road, RD 1, Columbiana died of complications at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday at her residence, following a six-year illness.

Born Dec. 25, 1897 in Beaver Township, she was the daughter of Grant and Clara Stafford Warner.

A resident here the past 34 years she was a member of the Mt. Olivet United Church of Christ at North Lima.

Survivors include her husband, Emerson, whom she married Feb. 4, 1925 and a brother, Leonard Warner of Leetonia.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Seederly - Beilhart Funeral Home here. The Rev. Donald Voelm of the Grace United Church of Christ will officiate, with burial in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

George F. Flugan

LISBON — George Franklin Flugan, 77, retired Lisbon Cemetery sexton, died at 6:35 a.m. today in Salem City Hospital where he was taken Wednesday evening. He had been ill with a heart condition for several years.

Born Aug. 26, 1881, in Lisbon, a son of George D. and Mary Ann Wagley Flugan, he lived his entire life in Center Township. He worked as cemetery sexton 21 years, retiring in 1952. Prior to that he worked in a pottery and foundry.

Mr. Flugan was a life time member of the First Presbyterian Church, served as elder and was a member of New Lisbon Lodge No. 65, F. & A.M.

He leaves his widow, Bessie Chandler Flugan; one daughter, Mrs. Norman Ward of Lisbon; one son, Paul C. Flugan of Guilford; one sister, Mrs. Ray Farrell of Alomo, Tex.; one brother, Charles Flugan of Canton; four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard. Burial will be in the Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Toledo Mall Idea Arouses Much Interest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's experiment in luring retail shoppers downtown with four pedestrian malls is receiving close attention from many other cities in the United States and Canada.

Representatives from four American cities and one Canadian city already have set dates for visits to the malls. Many other communities are contemplating sending someone to view the scene first hand.

The first delegation, from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was due today.

It includes Jack Short, councilman-at-large; Traver Smith, service director; Gale Edgerton, a department store manager; and two newspaper people.

Next Wednesday, a group from the Lincoln-Belmont-Ashland shopping center in Chicago will come to Toledo.

Windsor, Ont., will send representatives Aug. 20. John H. Travers Jr., executive vice president of the Buffalo, N. U., retail merchants, is expected here the week of Aug. 17.

Other inquiries have come from Zanesville; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Cincinnati; Canton; Cleveland; Peoria, Ill.; Toronto; Annapolis, Md.; and Saginaw, Mich.

The colorful malls—located on what was four blocks of busy Adams Street and Madison Avenue—feature trees, flowers, grass, live penguins, statuary, playground equipment and benches. The city put up $15,000 for the project.

Their purpose is to make downtown shopping so pleasant that a trip to the core of the city's business district is more attractive than a stop at a suburban shopping center.

Since the malls opened Monday, thousands of persons have visited them. Most people say they like the idea; will continue to do business with the downtown merchants.

Some merchants, however, see another necessary step ahead for city planners. There must be cheap parking, they say, before the malls can be a complete and continuing success.

Said Hyman Posner, a delicatessen operator in the mall area: "I'd say make the malls permanent on one condition — cheap parking. I've had people tell me that as well as they like the malls, they won't come to shop there as long as they have to pay almost a dollar to park for a day when they can park at shopping centers for nothing."

Parking has been taken into consideration in long range planning for the downtown area. The mall experiment will end in 40 days, and then city and county officials will appraise its worth.

If it has been successful, they will begin planning for permansent and more elaborate malls with nearby parking areas already envisioned in a master plan for downtown development.

USW, Industry

day with the aid of the federal mediators.

The new technique of the mediators Wednesday involved a secret meeting between David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

While the McDonald-Cooper conference went on, other negotiators discussed contract terms. Finnegan said both sides appeared to be acting "in a more workmanlike way."

The strike of 500,000 members of the union is 23 days old. It has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production and has idled approximately 107,000 employes in allied indutries.

The union's principal demand is for a wage increase of about 15 cents an hour in each year of a new contract, plus fringe benefits. The industry contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour. The union contends its demands could be met out of profits and increased productivity without a steel price rise.

Nixon

for the presidential nomination, his brush with Stratton did not improve his chances of getting the support of the powerful Illinois delegaion.

Some Republican governors seemed to feel, a bit resentfully, that Rockefeller was preoccupied with weighty issues and had little time to fraternize with them. His admitted charm, however, was reflected in favorable comment from others.

The conference produced little enlightenment on the position of Democratic presidential hopefuls.

In their closing session Wednesday the governors adopted a resolution inviting to the United States the heads of the five Soviet republics that a delegation from their group had visited on a recent tour of the Soviet Union.

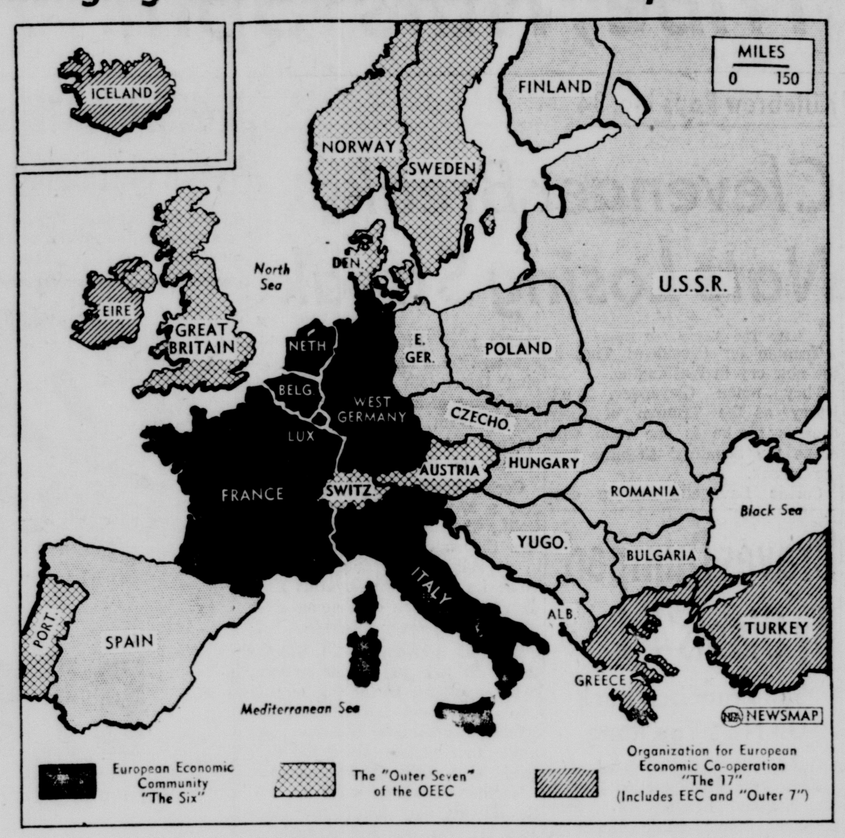
The governors also approved a resolution calling on President Eisenhower and the Democratic-controlled Congress to compromise their differences over financing the interstate highway program.

County Rural Schools Need 7 Instructors

Columbiana County rural schools need seven teachers to complete their staffs from the coming school term, according to County Supt James L. McBride.

A third, fifth and a commercial teacher is sought for United Local School; a French teacher at Beaver Local School; fifth or sixth grade teacher at Southern Local, and fifth and sixth grade teachers at Fairfield - Waterford School.

Changing Economic Face of Europe



Two years ago, six European nations (shown in bblack on newsmap above) signed a treaty forming the European Economic Community (EEC). Object was to create a free trade area and common market by the gradual lowering of tariffs and other barriers over the next 15 years. They are part of the broader 17-nation Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC), which was set up after World War II to plan for and use Marshall Plan aid. Now seven OEEC countries outside the common market are moving to establish their own free trade area. They have been dubbed the "Outer Seven" (see map). Eventual goal of these plans is the complete unification of all Europe.

500 Attend Clam Bake At Golf Club

More than 500 Salem Golf Club members and their guests attended the organization's 32nd annual clambake and golf tournament at the club Wednesday.

The all day event opened at 9 a.m. when 150 golfers started shooting for a host of tournament prizes. Rudy Schuster turned in low gross and was awarded a carrying bag. Ed Pukalski and Dick Greene tied for second. Pukalski won a seat cane and Greene, an umbrella.

Al Konnerth took home a rain jacket for driving closest to the nine pin. Bob Schaffer reportedly "lucked out" in a similar contest on the sixth hole and received an umbrella.

Fred Koch was honored for blasting the shortest drive off the first tee. His ball rolled six inches but straight down the fairway. Receiving the accolades from fellow club members for shooting the highest score was E. E. Hartford. His score card showed a 144.

Carl Sekely won a special prize.

Following the tournament, steamed clams were served to the members and their guests. Ralph Zimmerman was general chairman.

meeting is exactly what members of Congress want to do.

Many members feel that it would be inconsistent for them to sit decorously around and listen to a speech by Khrushchev after having spent a large part of their congressional life blasting communism. They probably wouldn't show up.

There is ample precedent for Khrushchev to be invited to address a joint meeting if Congress is in session when he arrives. While such meetings normally are reserved for heads of state — such as kings, or queens, or presidents — the rule has been waived in the past.

tiated settlement for Berlin rather than a decision forced by unilateral Soviet action.

As one Western diplomat put it, Khrushchev would rather try to negotiate the Western powers out of Berlin than try to squeeze them out at the risk of a war. The Western ministers believe they impressed Gromyko and Khrushchev with their determination to protect West Berlin and its 2,250,000 inhabitants even to the extent of war.

Gromyko, who took off for Moscow shortly before Herter, said in a statement at the airport that the conference "has led to a definite rapproachement" between East and West on the German and Berlin issues. He conceded that substantial differences remain but said these only stressed the need for "further efforts on the part of the states concerned to achieve mually acceptable decisions."

Martin, Power Hurt; Tribe, Nats Split 7-3, 9-0

Billy Out For 4 to 6 Weeks

Grant Wins First; McLish Drops Second

WASHINGTON (AP)—At a crucial point in the American League pennant race, the second - place Cleveland Indians have lost second baseman Billy Martin for the stretch drive.

Martin, who had hit safely in eight straight games, was struck on the left side of the face on a pitch by Washington's Tex Clevenger Wednesdaynight . He suffered a fractured left jaw and cheekbone and doctors figure he will be sidelined for four to six weeks.

The Indians split their doubleheader with the Senators and remained two games behind Chicago.

Cleveland exploded for six runs in the seventh inning of the opener to win 7-3. The Senators snapped their 18-game losing spell in the nightcap, however, on a 9-0 shutout by Clevenger.

The loss of Martin is especially costly, since Cleveland has a shortage of infielders. Vic Power also was hurt Wednesday night, getting a sprained right thumb and a spike wound on his right forearm when Lenny Green slid into him at third base.

Power's injury is not considered serious, though, and he probably will be back in action tonight when Cleveland plays the final game of the four-game series with the Senators.

Gary Bell (11-9) is slated to pitch for the Tribe against Russ Kemmerer (5-11).

Martin, first batter in the nightcap, was carried off the field on a stretcher. At Georgetown University Hospital for an indefinite period, he underwent immediate plastic surgery and had the broken bones in his face wired.

Martin drove in the tying and winning runs in the opener with a bases-loaded single. It enabled Jim Grant (7-4) to post his 10th straight victory over the Senators over two seasons.

In the second game, the Senators tallied six times in the fifth inning off loser Cal McLish (13-5) and Bobby Locke. The big blow was a three-run homer by Harmon Killebrew, his 34th. Three Indians errors led to three unearned markers.

The Indians got only seven hits off Clevenger (5-2), making his first start after 33 relief appearances.

In the opener Strickland triggered the Indians' big scoring bust with his third homer of the season. Rookie Zorro Versalles and Jim Lemon homered for the Senators.

Tito Francona had two hits in eight trips in the two games and saw his average slip six points to .410.

New York District Attorney Conducting Probe

Violence Hinted In Promotion Of Patterson-Johansson Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The fear of violence has been injected into the district attorney's probe of the unsavory circumstances surrounding the promotion of the Floyd Paterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship fight last June.

When Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the bout and until last Monday president of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., left Frank Hogan's office Wednesday after answering a subpoena, he was accompanied by a detective he acknowledged was a bodyguard.

He did not say whether he had asked for protection or whether it was volunteered by the authorities. Hogan's office declined to comment.

This hint of sinister influences at work came during a day which saw both Rosensohn and his erstwhile partner in the enterprises, Vincent Vellella, answering subpoenas from the district attorney's office. There also was the announcement by the New York State Athletic Commission that it was starting a full-scale investigation.

Velella's attorney, Raphael Koenig, said his client had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Friday morning. Rosensohn said he tentatively was asked to return to the district attorney's office under subpoena Aug. 28.

Velella, whose falling out with Rosensohn precipitated the investigations, and Rosensohn appeared separately before Asst. Dist. Atty. John Bonomi, who is conducting the probe.

Rosensohn, when asked if "the underworld boys are in the picture," replied he did not know, but said he had signed away his rights in the promotion because he had to. He declined to comment when asked if he had been threatened.

Browns to Play Two August Football Tilts

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns opened their third week of training today with the roster down to 51 players, six of whom have yet to report to camp here. The six are halfback Bobby Mitchell, due for release from military service Aug. 20, and five players preparing for the College All-Star game.

Names have been scratched from the roster at an average of one a day during the first two weeks of Browns' drills. Departing Wednesday were a pair of rookies — quarterback Bob Brodhead of Duke, who reported late and couldn't catch up, and Frank Trozzo, a guard from West Virginia.

Veteran linebacker Chuck Noll may miss the exhibition opener in Pittsburgh Tuesday because of a bruised foot.

Clevenger Breaks Nats Losing Streak

By The Associated Press

Truman for President! That is the new cry in Washington.

They mean Clevenger, not Harry as the Truman of their dreams for he is the man who broke the Senators' 18-game losing streak.

Cookie Lavagetto was a desperate man after watching his Senators tie a club mark by dropping their 18th straight in the first game of a doubleheader Wednesday night. The modern major league record of 20 was just around the corner.

Cookie finally settled on Clevenger, a 27-year-old son of Visalia, Calif., who had not started all season. Clevenger had shown enough in 33 relief appearances to convince Lavagetto who by this time didn't need much convincing after watching his other pitchers.

All that Clevenger did was to throw his first big league shutout, a seven hit 9-0 job at the second-place Cleveland Indians and the streak was over. It was the Senators' first victory since the first game of a July 19 doubleheader.

Harmon Killebrew woke up, too. He hit his first home run since July 27, (No. 34) and pushed his runs batted in total to 85. Both figures are tops in the American League.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant handed Washington its 18th defeat in the opener 7-3 as the Indians scored six runs in the seventh inning. Cal McLish, the man General Manager Frank Lane criticized Casey Stengel for pitching in the All - Star game, lost the second.

There was no change in the pennant race. Chicago also split a twi - nighter in Baltimore, holding tight to its two-game lead. Barry Latman shut out the Orioles with three hits in the 2-0 opener but Baltimore took advantage of Early Wynn's shaky pitching and five White Sox errors to grab the second game 7-1 behind Arnold Portocarrero.

New York finally beat Yankee-killer Don Mossi after bowing five times to the talented left-hander. Little Bobby Shantz fired a five-hit shutout and Mickey Manle hit his 22nd home run with a man on for 3-0 victory.

Cary Geiger drove in six runs and Frank Malzone knocked in five as Boston clubbed Kansas City 17-6. Geiger hit a three-run homern a two-run double and batted in another with a triple. Malzone hit his 16th and 17th homers, a double and a single. Ike Delock, second of three Boston pitchers, was the winner over rookie Howard Reed who replaced Johnny Kucks in the first.

Braves Dumped By Giants 4-1

San Francisco Back On NL's Top Rung

By The Associated Press

They were kidding Fred Haney, the National League All - Star manager, about Willie McCovey. Somebody asked why McCovey, a rookie who came up from Phoenix last Thursday, wasn't on the squad.

Haney joked right back. "I'm told that this Willie simply wasn't available," he said. "He already was up in Cooperstown getting measured for a plaque."

That was a couple of days ago. Haney hadn't seen McCovey at that time. He probably wishes now that he never did see him for McCovey knocked his Milwaukee Braves right out of the National League lead and has San Francisco on top again today.

McCovey gave the Giants a first-inning lead with a 380-foot homer off Bob Buhl. After Willie Mays' double scored Jim Davenport with the tie-breaking run in the eighth, McCovey tapped Mr. Buhl for another home run, a two - run 400 - footer that nailed down a 4-1 victory. Jack Sanford went all the way with an eight-hitter for his 10th triumph.

Billy Rigney, manager of the Giants, continued to juggle his lineup. He played Orlando Cepeda, his first baseman recently shifted to third base with sad results, to left field. Cepeda looked much better as he made a spectacular catch of Hank Aaron's foul drive in the eighth inning.

The Braves dropped to third as the Los Angeles Dodgers remained within one-half game of the top by downing the Cincinnati Reds 6-3 on the hitting of Duke Snider and the pitching of Johnny Podres.

Doubles by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson behind a walk gave Cincinnati two runs in the first and they made it 3-0 in the second. Then Snider homered in the second, drove in another with a single in a three-run third and added the final tally in the eighth with his 16th homer. Podres drove in a run in the fourth. Bob Purkey (10-11), first of three Cincinnati pitchers lost.

Ernie Broglio, St. Louis rookie, pitched his third big league shutout, a four-hit job against Pittsburgh 3-0. Singles by Joe Cunningham and Wally Shannon and Hal Smith's infield out gave the Cards a second-inning run. They added two more unearned runs in the eighth off rookie Fred Green.

Philadelphia hopped on Bill Henry, the Chicago Cubs' usually reliable relief man, and scored two in the ninth for a 6-4 victory. It was the Cubs' seventh straight defeat. Gene Conley got ninth inning help from Taylor Phillips to earn his 10th victory.

Assistant Coach At Lisbon Named

LISBON — William W. Hackett, 29, of Kyser, W. Va., was appointed assistant coach Wednesday by Supt. Loren Early to replace Ernest Costello, who resigned recently to accept employment in Las Vegas, Nev.

Hackett received his bachelor of science degree at West Virginia University in 1958 and is currently working towards a master's degree in physical education at the university.

He taught last year at Reader, W. Va., where he also was basketball coach. He is a Navy veteran of 33 months.

He will teach biology and will be assistant in football and basketball. He and his wife are expected to arrive in Lisbon around Aug. 27.

Liverpool Blanks Leetonia 6-0 In County Softball Tourney

Salona Drops Old Dutch 18-15

Lincoln, Stepanics Also Win Openers

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

For the few fans who sat through the long night of softball at Kelley Field Wednesday, opening round of the county tournament provided everything from a whing-ding pitchers battle to a not so classy scoring marathon.

Fourth-seeded American Vitrified of East Liverpool was pushed 10 innings by Leetonia Sons of Italy before it exploded for six markers, the only runs that crossed the plate the entire game.

Salona Supply tallied 14 times in the first two innings but still needed four more in the fifth to subdue Old Dutch 18-15. Lincoln opened the evening's action with a 3-1 win over Stewart Recreation. Stepanics Tavern and Sebring Faisons China had the misfortune of drawing the finale and in the early hours of the morning, Stepanics emerged with a 6-4 victory.

AMERICAN VITRIFIED pitcher John Carter showed that he has the fireball and control that could push the East Liverpool entry all the way to the finals. He shut out Leetonia OSI on just three hits in pitching his team to its 6-0 overtime win.

Leetonia's Larry Hartfelder matched Carter in everything but control. It was chiefly wildness that led to his downfall in the tenth. With two out Les Lanfried singled. Jack Pease was hit with a pitch before Hartfelder walked Ken Talbot to fill the bases.

Cleanup batter Bevo Francis, the former college and professional basketball great from East Palestine, then hit a groundball to shortstop Ken Warner who lost a foot race to the bag as two runs came home. An infield hit and Bill Miller's triple only added to Leetonia's misery.

Carter struck out nine but, more impressive, walked no one. Hartfelder fanned 11 but issued five free passes.

SALONA'S WIN over Old Dutch was a case of a fifth place Class A club defeating a last place Class AA team. Both outfits clubbed balls all over the park. Old Dutch pitcher Dick Jackson had absolutely nothing last night. He gave up 14 runs in the first two innings before giving away to Murph Sosbe.

Both teams displayed some heavy sticking with Bruce Brewer of Old Dutch and Bob Morriss of Salona each collecting four hits. As a team, Salona had 17 hits and Old Dutch 13. Neither club showed much defensively, committing a total of 11 errors, seven of them by Old Dutch.

Lincoln got its usual fine pitching performance from Judge Guiler in its win over Stewart. He struck out seven and walked only two in hurling a neat three-hitter. Guiler had to be good because his teammates managed to touch Stewart's Ron Wyss for only seven hits.

Bill Odorizzi's double and Frank Lanney's single plated a run in the first. Four singles brought home the other two runs in the second.

STEPANICS, one of the strongest teams in the tourney despite the fact that they weren't seeded, scored twice in the seventh to break a 4-4 tie with Sebring.

A triple by Ed Stefani and a single by Jim Beard, his third hit of the game, accounted for the winning run. Beard later came home on an error to add insurance. The strong center fielder had put his team in front in the second inning with a two-run homer.

Chuck Henderson led Sebring with three hits. The speedy Sebring nine was outplayed but not outrun. In the third inning both Henderson and Bill Murphy were credited with stealing home.

Tonight's schedule is:

6:15, Beloit vs Midway Motors

7:30, Scott's Candy vs East Liverpool (Y.E.L.P.)

8:45, SAIDC vs Herron Transfer

10, Mark's Landing vs Farmers Bank

Chairman's Letter Draws Fire

Racing Group Seeks List of Expenditures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A letter written by Thomas R. Lloyd, chairman of the Racing Commission, drew fire from the other two members of the commission Friday.

Lloyd was asking all racing permit holders for an itemized list, in affidavit form, of expenditures which might in some way be connected with the racing legislation enacted by the General Assembly. The commisioner said he heard rumors of heavy spending by track operators to influence favorable legislation.

However, Commissioners Otto G. Elliott and Garrett S. Claypool objected to the letter, saying it looked as though they, too, were asking for the information. They said they hadn't learned of the letter until reading Wednesday's newspapers.

The two submitted a resolution to the effect that, if anything improper is evidenced, it should be turned over to the attorney general. The resoluion was adopted.

In other action the commision:

Agreed to let Grandview Raceway, Inc., at Solon hold its Aug. 8-Sept. 29 meet at Northfield Park on the Summit-Cuyahoga county line. Grandview's grandstand burned several months ago.

Agreed, following legislative decision, to transfer operations of Cranwood Raceway (Cleveland Raceways, Inc.) at Warrensville Heights to Thistledown Jockey Club, Inc. at North Randall. Both tracks are south of Cleveland. Cranwood has a Sept. 11-Oct. 31 meet. Thistledown's was May 27-July 16.

Allowed Lebanon Raceway to move up its meet to start Sept. 11, so it will close one day before the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Sept. 24.

Agreed to advertise a proposed rule (for public hearing in about 30 days to ban racing in Ohio on Good Friday.

Decided to ask the Ninth District Court of Appeals to dissolve its July order which permits Kenneth J. Pressler, of Orrville, to work as a pari-mutuel clerk. A commission denial of a 1959 permit to Pressler was reversed by Judge Adrian W. Miller of Wayne County Common Pleas Court.

Pressler obtained an order permitting him to work while the commission appealed to the district court. The commission contends the court has no jurisdiction to issue such an order and wants the matter set for hearing.

Jaycees Win 14-9 Over Endres-Gross

Pitchers had a rought night Wednesday at Memorial Park as the Jaycees won a 14-0 slugging match from Endres-Gross in Class H Hot Stove League action.

Tim Boughton and Bob Stoffer scored three runs to lead the Jaycees at the plate. Boughton's blows included a double and triple. Scott Thayer of Endres-Gross lashed outr the game's only home run.

A big nine run first inning put the game away for the Jaycees who are now only a game and a half behind second place Home Furniture.

Dennis Scullion managed to hang on for the win. Bill Makras suffered the loss.

Jerry Martin Sets Records In Camp

Pfc. Jerry R. Martin, Salem school teacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman of 430 W. State St., recently took part in a company physical training test as a part of his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He attained the highest total score in the performance of five exercises which included a 300-yard shuttle run in which he posted a time of 40 seconds. This is the fastest time ever recorded in the company, according to officers in charge.

Martin also completed the maximum number of squat jumps (95) which gave him a perfect score in that exercise. He is the only one in the company of 200 men who had a perfect score in this exercise.

He will return as teacher at the Junior High School here after six months training.

Buffalo Defeated By Marlins 5-4

By The Associated Press

Since Buffalo shows no sign of weakening its eight-game hold on first place in the International League, eyes are focusing on the battle for playoff berths among the other seven teams.

Only five games separate second-place Havana and last place Rochester, with the remaining five teams bunched closely in between.

Rochester defeated Havana Wednesday night 8-2. Third-place Richmond won a doubleheader from Toronto, 7-3 and 5-3, to move within two games of the Cubans. Montreal stayed one percentage point ahead of Columbus in fourth place, though it lost 9-7 to the Jets. Both are 2½ games out of second.

Buffalo lost to Miami, 5-4 in the other IL game.

Tom Burgess' two-run homer (No. 21) helped Columbus, and Burgess scored the deciding run on John Jaciuk's triple in the sixth inning. Joe Gibbon (12-7) was the winner.

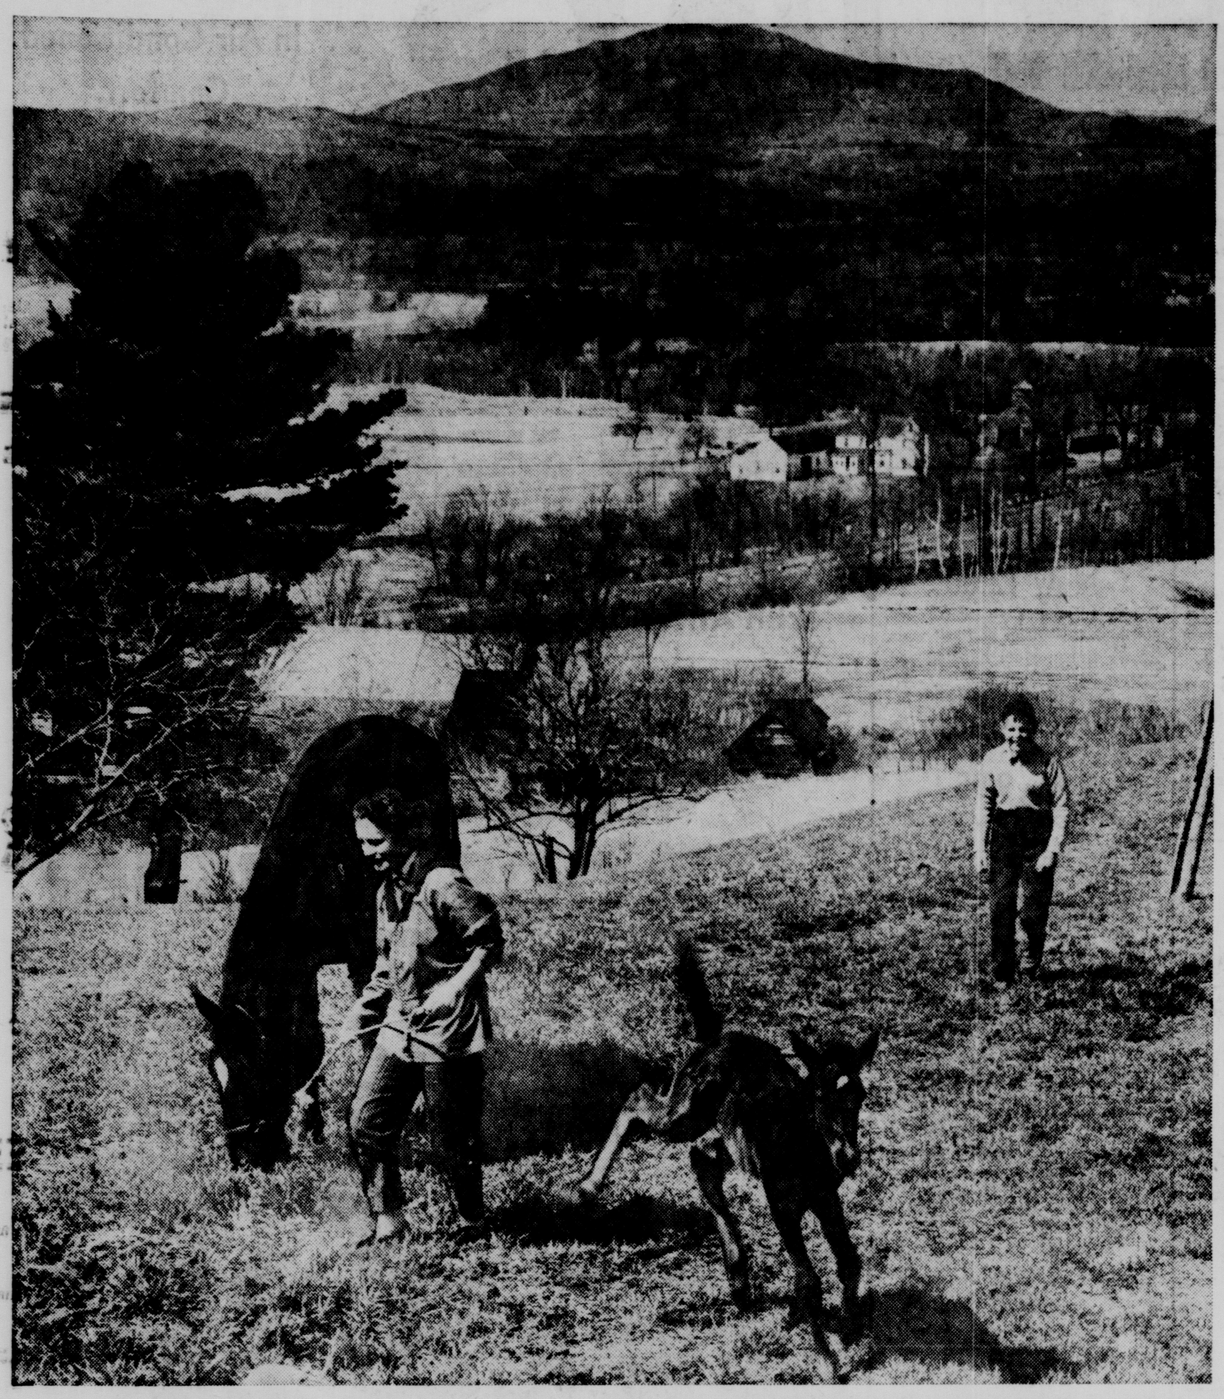
News of the World in Pictures

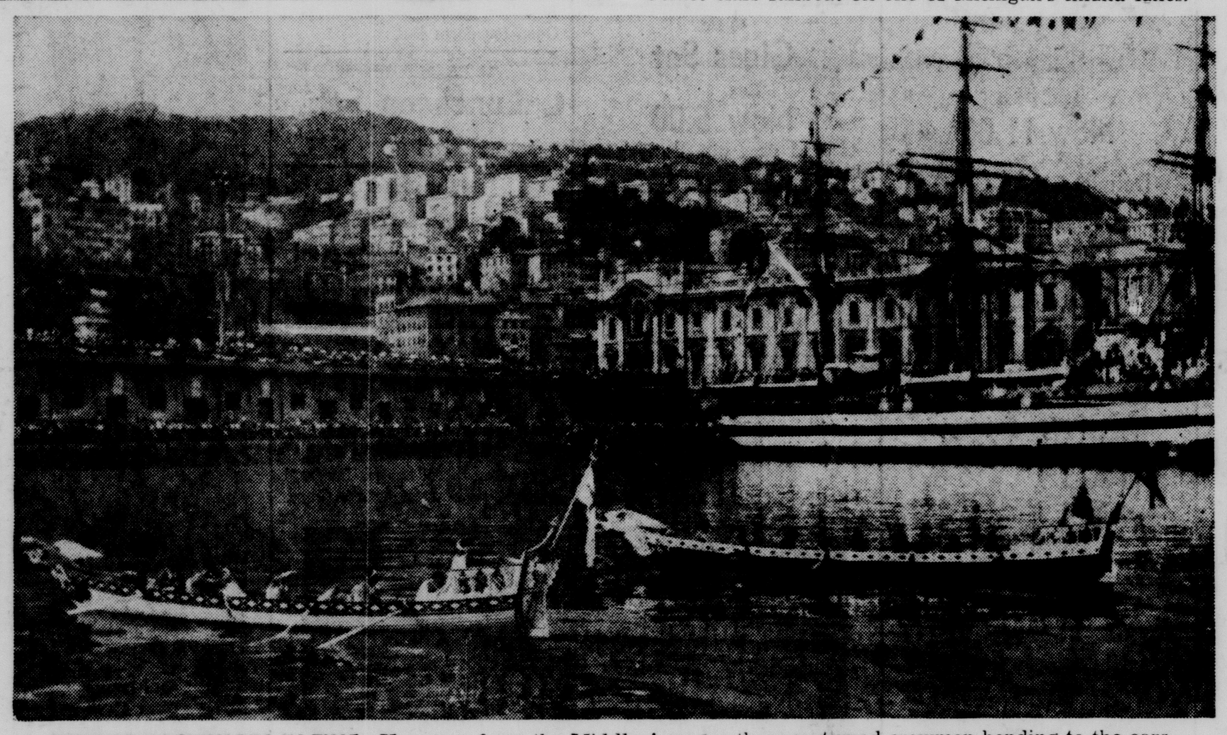


IT'S A 'SUNNY' DAY—Flinging his heels high, Sunny, a four-day-old colt, enjoys a romp in the fresh air in North Charlestown, N. H. With him are Lyn Adams, her brother, Bob, and a mare.

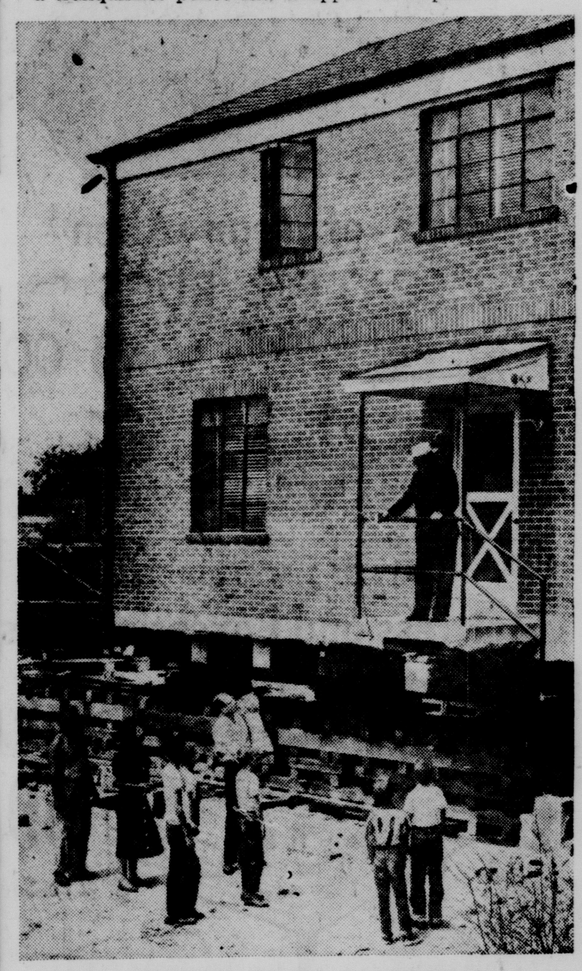
A SILLY SUPERSTITION—That old belief about it being bad luck for a ship to have a woman on board shouldn't apply to this young lady. She's a crew member of a Comet class sailboat on one of Michigan's inland lakes.

SAVING DOE—Hooked like a fish, a doe is guided to safety by game protector Anthony de Roos after being pulled from a 20-foot-deep dry well in Henrietta, N. Y. The doe was shot with a tranquilizer pellet and wrapped in tarpaulin.

SMALL LIFE SAVER—The world's smallest resuscitator is introduced in Chicago with the aid of a bird. Developed by Chemtron, it will help save lives of babies with obstructed air passages.



ROWING BACKWARDS IN TIME—Voyagers from the Middle Ages are those costumed crewmen bending to the oars in the Bay of Genoa, Italy. The boats are competing in the historic regatta of the Four Mariner Republics of Medieval Times. The regatta commemorates the times when Genoa, Venice, Amalfi and Pisa battled for sea trade.



ROLLING RESIDENCE—The Rev. Michael O'Keefe is preaching a "moving sermon" as the rectory of St. Gregory's church is moved 200 feet to make way for new rectory and church near St. Louis.

HE'S A REAL COOL KID

UNLIKE MANY GROWNUPS, four-year-old Bob Moreland can do something right away when the heat gets him down. He has a method all his own for combatting the heat, the mercury, the humidity or the discomfort index. He uses a garden hose and a plastic bucket. He fills the bucket with water, climbs in and splashes away. Neighbors in St. Petersburg, Fla., agree he's "playing it cool."

Bobby Moreland decides to fill bucket with water.

Then he starts his climb into the makeshift tub for a dip.

Bobby sits cozily in the bucket, enjoying the cool water.

He ends beat-the-heat chore by spraying his head.

Glamorize Those Hamburgers

It never fails! Add a surprise to a perfectly ordinary dish and you'll entertain as well as nourish family and friends.

Do it the easy way! Use the smorgasbord technique. There's nothing tasters like better than to pick and choose among a surprise trayful of accompaniments.

Take the hamburger routine. Maybe on the outdoor grill, maybe in the old black fying pan in the kitchen, but one thing is sure—you'll be cooking burgers this summer.

First-off, make that old standby into flavorsome light-textured meat cakes a la the following rule. Then add the fun: a battery of toppings other than the usual relish.

Strips of cheddar or Swiss cheese, sliced scallions, crisp green pepper rings, sliced fresh mushrooms (some people adore them raw), rounds of mild sweet onion and sliced tomato are half a dozen suitable burger toppings you can gather without trouble. Minced chives, parsley, pickled onions, capers, pimiento, mango chutney, anchovies, Roquefort cheese, walnut or pecan halves belong in another group easy to come by.

Make the service glamorous! Put the toppings in small matching bowls and plates on an attractive tray. And have enough for a lavish display.

There's something about the help yourself - idea that encourages guests to throw conservatism to the winds.

They'll think this is a new version of the hero sandwich and pile two, three or all of the tidbits between those split buns holding the burgers.

Burgers

Ingredients: 1½ pounds lean ground beef chuck,, 1 egg, ½ cup finely crushed crackers, 1 can (6 ounces or 2-3 cup evaporated milk, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ cup finely chopped celery, 2 tablespoons (1 small) finely grated onion (pulp and juice).

Method: Mix together the beef and unbeaten egg. Mix in well the cracker crumbs, undiluted evaporated milk, salt, pepper, mustard, garlic salt, celery and onion.

Make into 6 to 8 patties (using about ½ cup of the meat mixture for each).

Grill over charcoal or in a little butter in a hot skillet; use high hat to get outsides brown and crusty, then reduce heat and cook until patties are just pink inside.

These burgers should not be rare. Makes 6 to 8 servings

Three-Fruit Drink

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pint and 2 fluid ounces) pineapple juice, 2 large oranges, ½ lemon, 1 bottle (7 ounces) ginger ale.

Method: Mix pineapple juice and juice from oranges and ½ lemon. Add ginger ale and stir lightly; makes 1 quart. Fill 4 tall glasses with ice cubes and pour in drink. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: The pineapple juice called for is a No. 2 can yielding about 2¼ cups.

Rogers

Mrs. Elsie Tennant and son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Tennant have moved into the Jenkins property on Eell St. in Rogers.

Mrs. Florence Bable and Susan Jenkins spent Monday and Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown St. at Lisbon.

Miss Nancy Long and Miss Sandra Cowan visited Mr. and Mrs. Louis Raymond of Salem over the weekend.

Cook Grows Own Herbs

Get yourself a pot of chives and one of basil and grow two of your own culinary herbs. Each summer we do just this, put them on our terrace, and never regret turning gardener.

Both chives and basil like some sun; they also like their soil evenly moist but not saturated with ater. As one real outdoors gardener says, "Herbs resent both desert dryness and excessively high temperatures."

We've also grown rosemary, tarragon and woodruff in pots; and one year we had a tubful of mint for juleps, sauce and garnishing fruit.

The rosemary was extremely successful. But tarragon grows so slowly that after we cooked the famous French "poulet a l'estragon" once we had to wait until the end of the summer to taste the chicken and tarragon combination again!

Our woodruff (the herb used in the German Mai Bowle) made a pretty plant all summer long but lost its fragrance; but don't let that keep you from trying to grow it — we may have mistreated it.

Even if you don't heed our advice and grow your own, you can find these herbs (cut) in summer markets. The herbs do wonders for many of the dishes often served at warm-weather mealtimes.

Chives first. So many cold soups benefit from these. We like to scatter them on bowls of borsch, cucumber soup and curried cream of chicken.

We probably do not need to remind you that they are a must with Vichysoisse — easily made these days from frozen condensed potato soup and chicken broth.

When we first grew basil, we followed the culinary herb books: "Use in any dish containing tomato," they advise. Good advice indeed, but we also discovered that minced fresh basil tossed with crisp greens helps make a superb salad.

It's absolutely out of this world when the whole leaves are marinated in olive oil, wine vinegar and seasonings and served with sliced cucumbers and tomatoes. It gives verve to scrambled eggs and an omelet.

Some of our friends, epicurean cooks, use rosemary when roasting lamb or allow it to give savor to pan-fried and broiled steak.

Tarragon is delightful on platters of cold chicken or turkey, fish and eggs. I like to add the hern to homemade mayonnaise to accompany these foods. But then mayonnaise takes to many herbs — among them dill, chervil, parsley.

Such a piquant dressing does a great deal for perennial warm-weather salads and sandwiches.

Beloit

Miss Janice Lee spent the weekend at Erie, Pa., with several girl friends.

Misses Dana Notman, Evelyn McKenzie and Lois Sams are vacationing at Guilford Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fletcher and children have returned from visiting relatives in Kentucky.

Mrs. Willard McEldowney has received word of the serious illness of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Shutler, who is confined to the Alliance City Hospital.

Miss Freda Girsberger was in charge of devotions at the Beloit Friends Church Sunday School hour when Missionary Sunday was observed. A report on the building fund was given by the chairman of the finance committee, Donald Sams.

Mrs. Leah Dixon is helping in the Post Office in the absence of Mrs. Fred Weizenecker. William Dixon is working in the meat department of the IGA store for Mr. Weizenecker.

Mary Sue Moulin was honored on her 14th birthday with a small birthday party. A cook-out was enjoyed with a decorated birthday cake centering the table. Guests were Miss Cindy Murphy of Alliance, Beth Greene and James McNatt of Beloit.

Mrs. Harold Johnson and Mrs. Edith Becker have returned from the Alliance City Hospital and are improving at home.

-:-

MISS IRENE SCHULLEN of Holland is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Early as a guest of Mrs. Lyman Cady who is here from Oklahoma visiting her parents. Miss Schullen will stay at the Cady home for a year as a member of the Christian International Youth Exchange group.

Homer Lee is able to return to work following a two months illness.

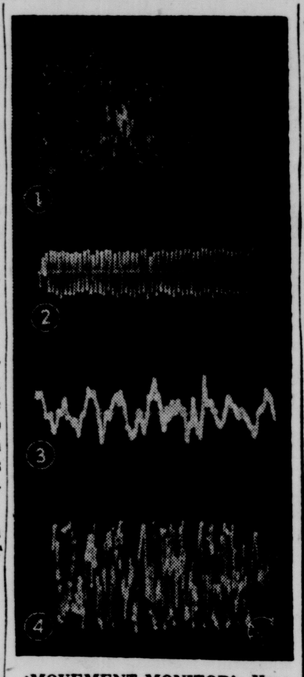
Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and family are vacationing at their cottage at Berlin Lake. Mrs. Snyder's brother, Donald Mason, is visiting at the lake.

Mrs. Melvin Moulin and Mary Sue and Mrs. Walter Taylor visited Mrs. James Chubb in Alliance and Mrs. Bruce Dalton in Sebring.

Mrs. Donald Springer of Sebring visited her grandmother, Mrs Walter Taylor.

Rev. and Mrs. Elsie Matti were guest speakers at the East Goshen Friends Church while Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Blackburn are on vacation. The Blackburns were visitors at the Beloit Friends Church Sunday morning.

The Panama Canal zone extends five miles north and south on each side of the canal.



'MOVEMENT MONITOR'—Here is evidence of the super-sensitiveness of the Army's new "Movement Monitor." The ground-to-ground radar can detect moving targets at long range in fog or darkness. Screen images shown are 1—train, 2—auto, 3—man walking, 4—girl walking. The new radar unit can detect a WAC from a GI because a woman's hip movements are more pronounced than a man's.

Boy Scouts

Troop No. 5

Boy Scouts of Troop No. 5, sponsored by the First Christian Church have had a busy summer camping and advancing in Scout ranks.

Arden Crumbaker, scoutmaster and 12 Scouts attended Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake July 12-18. The following badges have been presented by the troop court of honor this summer:

Larry Crumbaker, first class badge, canoeing and basketry merit badges; Harold Schram, first class, swimming and basketry; George Murphy, first class, first aid and basketry.

Richard Franklin, second class, basketry; Ronnie Morrow, second class; Darrell Filler, second class, first aid and basketry; John Sutherin, second class and basketry.

Terry Thomas, second class, first aid and basketry; Lenny Filler, cooking, first aid, soil and water conservation; Bill Beery, rowing and forestry.

Jerry Harris, a member of Explorer Post 5, also attended Camp Twin Spruce and earned wild life management, soil and water conservation and insect life badges.

Members of Post 5, who served on camp staff this summer are Ronnie Crumbaker, Barry Muhleman and Ray Gottschling.

Deerfield

Prize winners in the Deerfield fire department's recent homecoming were Mrs. Pearl Beal, Mrs. Mabel Lewis, Mrs. Jack Kovacs, Frank Howard Duvall, Donald Close and Barbara Sutcliffe.

Proceeds will go to buy fire equipment.

The Sirenettes will hold their regular meeting Aug. 10 at the home of Mrs. Mary Jane Sutcliffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garbett are the parents of a son born recently. He has been named Larry Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnston attended the Ohio State Jersey picnic at the M. L. Baird farm in Springfield Saturday.

Corn Bread

One 10-ounce package easy corn bread mix, 1 egg, ½ cup milk.

Heat oven to 425 degrees F. Put egg and milk into bag of mix. Squeeze upper part of bag to force air out. Close top of bag by holding tightly between thumb and index finger.

With bag rsting on table, mix by working bag vigorously with fingers. (Mix about 40 seconds or until egg is completely blended.) Squeeze bag to empty batter into special aluminum foil pan contained in the package. (Do not grease pan.)

Bake in preheated oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. When cool, crumble corn bread. This makes just the right amount of corn bread for dressing recipe above.

Vegetables Add Flavor to Tender Chicken

Fresh spring vegetables are a flavorful accent to chicken. Here is a recipe which calls for green onions, fresh mushrooms, cut-up tomatoes and parsley as seasonings for chicken.

An unusual ingredient, lemon-lime carbonated beverage is added with the seasonings. This beverage, with its natural citrus flavor, points up the vegetable flavors and blends them with the chicken.

The succulent dish is good eating any time of year, but is especially pleasing for a late spring dinner.

Chicken With Vegetables

1 2-to-3-pound frying chicken, cut up, flour, salt and pepper, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 5 large mushrooms, sliced, 4 green onions, chopped, 2 fresh tomatoes, peeled and quartered, ¼ cup minced parsley, 1 7-ounce bottle lemon-lime carbonated beverage.

Add a few tablespoons of flour, and a few sprinklings of salt and pepper to a large plastic or paper bag.

Add chicken pieces and shake bag to coat chicken. Melt butter in a large skillet and add chicken. Brown on all sides. Add remaining ingredients.

Cover skillet and continue cooking over low heat until chicken is tender, about 35 to 45 minutes. Remove meat to a warm platter and thicken sauce with a little flour and water paste if you like. Serve with sauce over chicken. Makes six servings.

Orange Pudding

Ingredients: 1 package orange coconut tapioca pudding mix, milk, 1 can (about 11 ounces) Mandarin oranges, flaked coconut.

Method: Make up pudding mix according to package directions, using amount of milk called for. Chill. Drain oranges; reserve 10 of the sections.

Fold remaining drained sections into chilled pudding; spoon into serving dishes; garnish with reserved orange sections and flaked coconut.

Cover and refrigerate until serving time. Makes 5 servings.

Delectable Mousse

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 6 tablespoons cold water, 1-3 cup heavy cream, ¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, 1½ cups canned sliced apples, diced; 1½ cups diced cooked turkey, ¼ cup diced sweet pickle, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.

Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over hot water. Whip cream; combine with mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Add gelatin; mix well. Fold in apples, turkey, pickle, parsley, alt and Worcestershire sauce. Pour into large mold, which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce; serve with additional mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Meat-Fruit Dishes Are Superb

In Wisconsin and Minnesota we have eaten meat cooked with fruit. It was good.

Cherry Spareribs (4 servings)

Two pounds spareribs, cut into small pieces; 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 can (1 pound) red tart pitted cherries, water pack; 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon ground cloves, ¼ teaspoon ginger, 2 tablespoons vinegar, ¼ cup unsulphured molasses.

LEADS DRIVE — Here is a study of Bill Shea, 52-year-old lawyer, as he talked with newsmen at New York while announcing formation of a third major league. Shea is chairman of the founding group in which five cities—New York, Toronto, Houston, Denver, and Minneapolis-St. Paul—are represented.

Brown spareibs in heated shortening in skillet. Drain cherries, reserve liquid. Mix together flour, salt, monosodium glutamate and spices.

Pour mixture over spareribs.

Stir in reserved cherry liquid, vinegar and unsulphured molasses. Pour mixture over spareribs. Cover; simmer 45 minutes. Uncover; add drained cherries and simmer 10 minutes longer.

Cherry Stuffed Bread of Veal (6 to 8 servings)

One 4-5 pound breast of veal, 1 can (1 pound) red tart pitted cherries, water pack; 1 package (8 ounces) prepared bread stuffing mix, 2 Florida oranges, sectioned and cut in pieces; ½ cup raisins, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, ¼ teaspoon sage, optional.

Have large pocket cut in the breast of veal. Drain cherries; reserve half the liquid. Mix together drained cherries, stuffing, orange pieces, raisins, seasonings and reserved liquid. Spoon into pocket of veal; sew or skewer the edges together.

Place roast, fat side up, on rack in an open pan. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 40 minutes per pound.

Spaghetti Casserole Is Easily-Made Treat

Spaghetti takes top billing for one of the first dishes to master. . . and with this recipe for Spaghetti Casserole, you'll be cooking like a "paisano" in no time at all.

Made with spachetti sauce mix spiked with lemon juice to give it that fresh pick-up flavor, this casserole is sure to be a hit!

To complete the menu, add a tossed green salad (fresh lemon juice, oil and seasonings make a quick dressing), toasted garlic bread (can be purchased frozen) and Orange Sherbet.

Spaghetti Casserole

½ pound uncooked spaghetti, ½ pound ground beef, 1 clove garlic, finely minced, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 can (3 oz.) mushrooms, 1 can (No. 303) stewed tomatoes (2 cups), ¼ cup fresh lemon juice, 1 package spaghetti sauce mix, 4 tablespoons crumbled blue cheese, 2 tablespoons slivered, toasted almonds.

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water just until tender; drain. Saute meat with garlic, salt and pepper in skillet until brown. Drain off excess fat. Add mushrooms, tomatoes and fresh lemon juice.

Blend in spaghetti sauce mix. Simmer for 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from heat and mix in blue cheese. Toss with cooked spaghetti and spoon into 2-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (375) for 25 minutes. Remove from oven(Sprinkle with almonds and serve. Makes four servings.

Orange Egg Nog

Ingredients: For each large or every two small servings—1 egg, 1 tablespoon sugar, salt, ½ cup strained orange juice, ½ cup milk, freshly-ground nutmeg.

Method: With rotary beater (hand or electric) beat egg and sugar plus a dash of salt until thick and pale yellow colored.

Add orange juice and milk; beat well. Pour into one large or two small glasses; grind a little nutmeg over surface.

Serve at once. Sugar may be decreased or increased to suit taste.

Sardine Sandwich

Ingredients: 1 can (3¾ ounces) brisling sardines, ½ cup medium-fine grated carrot (packed down), 2 to 3 tablespoons minced scallion (including green top), 3 to 4 tablespoons mayonnaise, salt, pepper.

Method: Mash sardines and their oil with carrot, scallion, mayonnaise and salt and pepper to taste. Makes about 1¼ cups. Use as sandwich filling — if bread is regular thickness, ¼ cup filling will be needed for each sandwich.

Ohio Assembly Made Fund Raising Easier

Appropiation for Local Government Not Hiked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislators didn't increase local government appropriations for the next two years.

But they made it easier for municipalities, counties, townships and school districts to raise funds bond issues.

And they increased inheritance taxes about six million dollars for two years, with the state and locals splitting equally.

Starting in mid - September, municipalities can increase their net indebtedness, without a popular vote, from 1 to 1½ per cent of real property valuations. Charter cities can boost their net from 2 to 2½ per cent. But the total of all such debt cannot exceed 7 per cent of valuations. The present limit is 5 per cent.

Another enactment cuts from 55 to 50 per cent the vote required in primary and general elections for approval of bond issues and tax levies.

The margin for approval at special elections remains at 60 per cent.

Excluded in figuring debt imits were water and sewer bonds. Those issues can be made under a new law to a limit of 2 per cent of valuations.

Another new law, effective next year, permits that portion of a school district's first 10 mills of operating income which must be voted to be levied for an indefinite period. (Present law limits the life of all operating levies to five years). In addition, another part of the same new law permits levies beyond the first 10 mills of school operating income to be effective for as long as 10 years.

Local governments will continue to receive two million dollars annually from sales tax collections. They also will get about 25 millions from the tax on financial institutions and security dealers on the basis of past revenue. And they will get additional help for child welfare and for old age pensioners in county hospitals.

Another six million dollars annually will come from fee increases for courthouse services. Already in effect, those increases range from 10 to 35 cents for property transfers to a $5 daily charge by sheriffs for inventories at sheriff sales. The old inventory fee was $2.50. A host of other fee boosts were provided.

County officials raised a storm of protest two years ago when former Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill vetoed a similar county fee bill on grounds that it violated his then-popular no-new-tax program.

Counties also will benefit from the 1 per cent fee allowed clerks of courts for sales tax collections in motor vehicle transactions.

The Democratic-controlled Legislature voted pay raises for elected county officials ranging from 10 to 28 per cent according to population. Affected officials were: Auditors, treasurers, sheriffs, clerks of courts, recorders, commissioners, prosecutors, engineers and coroners.

Others voted pay boosts included judges, from municipal to supreme courts, and health and election board members. School board employes were allowed pay while serving on juries. The pay of appellate court shorthand reporters also was increased. And common pleas judges in counties of more than 300,000 were allowed administrative assistants.

County commissioners were authorized to build incinerators and set fees for their use, own and operate zoos, rehabilitate blighted rural areas and buy airplanes.

Public employes retirement benefits were increased. They will be based on the best five years' salary rather than the best five in the last 10 years of service.

County courts were allowed to hire clerks or use the services of common pleas court clerks for that purpose.

Commissioners of a county or group of counties received permission to establish juvenile rehabilitation camps for first offenders in misdemeanor cases. Under another new law, juvenile judges can require commissioners to build juvenile detention homes.

The Dec. 31, 1960 deadline for commissioners to build and lease county hospitals was eliminated and those officials were authorized to accept transfer of hospital facilities from municipalities. The sum commissioners can spend for building repairs from general funds without a popular vote was increased from $25,000 to $100,000.

Fees to be paid appraisers in animal claims were increased from 50 cents to $3 per case, the payments to come from dog and kennel funds.

Minimum pensions for city police and firemen were boosted from $1,200 to $1,500 and allowances for widows increased.

Metropolitan housing authorities will be able to set aside units for persons over 65, under another new statute.

In emergencies, sheriffs were authorized to obtain the help of deputies from neighboring counties. And sheriffs were permitted to reduce sentences of prisoners for work done, subject to court approval.

Provision also was made for commissioners to vacate county roads upon request of the state highway director.

An ancient statute, known as the "Horse Thief Act," permitting private groups to form posses for apprehension of criminals, was repealed.

Terms of village councilmen were increased to four years, several new municipal courts created, the jurisdiction of others extended and liquor permit holders were allowed to appeal State Liquor Board decisions in their home counties. Those appeals were permitted only in Franklin County.

Another enactment returned to real property tax appraisals under standards set by the State Board of Tax Appeal.

Glaze Makes Ham Unusually Attractive

Some like it hot and som like it vod, but everybody likes ham better when it's glazed.

A lady we know says that not to glaze a ham is like not to stuff a turkey. Both omissions, in her mind, result in serious waste of good eating potential.

A t any rate, here's new glaze for your next ham. It's unusual to say the least, and it is also unusually good. Very easy, very toothsome. The seasoning combination of aromatic bitters and ginger ale, combined with the brown sugar, results in a subtly-spiced, not too sweet complement to the meat.

Sparkling Ham Glaze

1 canned ham (4-6 lbs.), ½ cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon aromatic bitters, 1 large bottle ginger ale, Whole cloves, Canned pineapple slices.

Remove ham from can. Score fatty side and insert cloves. Mix brown sugar with aromatic bitters and spread over top and sides of ham.

Place ham on rack in open roasting pan. Gently pour ginger ale over top. Let ham stand for about an hour at room temperature and baste frequently with juice in bottom of pan.

Bake at 325 degrees F. for as long as label directs or approximately 20 minutes per pound. Baste occasionally with juices in pan.

Turn oven up to 450 degrees F. for last 15 minutes until ham is golden brown. Serve with slices of canned pineapple.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

NARO, KENYA

They've been fighting here with bows and arrows and spears. Now all is quiet. Around me are the Masai tribesmen. I've been sharing their flies — by the hunlreds. I've been at their round huts — made of hardened cow dung, which they also use as a poultice for wounds. I've handled their iron spears.

Victor Riesel

I've tried to tell them about America. They never heard of it. The old men, carrying the fly chasers as a sign of influence, won't believe there is such a place.

They asked about my eyes. I told them. They rattled their spears. They called me a warrior. They said proudly they are warriors too and the men in their manyatta (family group) led all the rest with 16 lion kills. How many have I killed? I retreated from that one—my face as red as the ocher dye made their hair and their skin.

At high noon it was 130 degrees in the sun. There were no mad dogs about but back in Nairobi there were angry Englishmen and bitter Kenyans. They believe that the United States in general and American labor leaders in particular are unfairly interfering in their affairs and their politics.

THEY HAD SUGGESTED this drive out towards the Ngong Hills, the Magadi Lake and this area, all within 60 to 80 miles from the metropolitan city of Nairobi. They had suggested I stay with the tribal Africans for a while.

The nearest were the Masai warriors who have rejected civilization's virtues just down the road on this strange continent. And the highest British and Kenyan officials said I would discover why they don't believe concepts of Western democracy can fit onto this continent.

I was startled to hear the AFL-CIO leadership discussed by the Kenyan equivalent of the president of the United States and by lesser ministerial officers. They wanted to know why the AFL-CIO was pouring tens of thousands of dollars into the Kenya labor movement made up totally of Africans.

They asked that the British and Kenyan point of view be presented to America, since the other side was being pictured in our press and on the airwaves back home.

The "settlers", — some of them go back 100 years — asked me to tell the American labor chiefs to stop throwing money into the Kenya Federation of Labor, led by Tom Mboya (of "Meet the Press" fame), because that organization is the backbone of the African political movements which want to drive out the whites.

I SAID I'D REPORT the white settlers' point of view, as an objective balance to the others. They protested against the Africans' cry for "undiluted democracy."

The British and Kenyan government people decried the Africans' "one-man, one-vote" slogan. The settlers said go out of the big cities — anywhere within a hundred mile arc and you're back in areas civilization has hardly touched.

I then read reports of the fighting over cattle between the Kamba and the Mbere tribes at Karangiri Ferry in the Nyeri area — just 80 miles up.

I drove to another site where the Masai, East Africa's toughest fighters, used bows and arrows for the second time in the past month. They fought a regular battle with the Kipsigis.

I went into lion country near Magadi. There the doctor of a modern hospital — reading from his records — reported that the Masai drifted in mostly to be treated for wounds from lions' claws.

The government people told me I'd find these things. They said that's why they believe Africa is not ready for Western type democracy. They said that's why they do not permit even the handful of learned Africans to launch a national political party and restrict them to regional activity. Nor do they permit them to hold outdoor meetings or use loudspeakers on the streets.

GOVERNMENT PEOPLE said that they feared that the eloquent African leaders would make rash promises to the millions of illiterate people — about 80 per cent of the seven million Africans here. Officials asserted that is why they tape record all political talks and restrict African leaders to small halls for the most part, though they do allow the Kenya Federation of Labor (high political) to run rallies in the Makadara Hall holding more than 5,000. I attended one of these myself. There I learned that the African labor people have $35,000 from the AFL-CIO for a new building here.

This sort of financial support bolsters the Africans against the rest of the people here, the government says. And it bolsters a group of African leaders who, though brilliant, do not speak for the millions of people out in the veldt and jungle. No one speaks for them. They're just not interested. They have their cattle and they've been hit by inflation because the cost of wives and living has gone up.

To sum it up, the settlers and government point of view is: American labor leaders should stay out of their affairs.

ALL TOGETHER, NOW—Pigtailed Italian Diane Baste, 26, disdains her beauty. She couldn't care less if people compare her with Brigitte Bardot. But she was proud when French President Charles de Gaulle thanked her by letter for a copy of her 64-page book, "Peace and Prosperity." It's a crusade for world harmony.

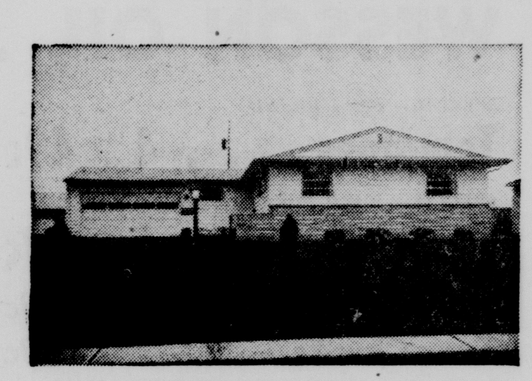
Did you coddle an ancient furnace last winter — swelter this summer, too? . . .

SEE HOW LITTLE IT COSTS FOR 365-DAY GAS HEATING-COOLING

(Based on actual gas bills for heating and cooling last year.)



$11.28 per month year around average cost to cool and heat this 1400 sq. ft. Columbus home. The owner says, "No one could understand how much a good air conditioning system adds to a nice home like ours till they have tried it. We have found the Arkla Servel system to be really good air conditioning through the year."

$39.92 per month average year around cost to cool and heat the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company offices in Toledo. The manager says, "We have enjoyed the benefits of Arkla-Servel "All-Year" Gas Air Conditioning for several years. Employee comfort is most satisfactory, and we are more than pleased with the economy and dependability of operation".

$27.54 per month average year around cost to cool and heat this large funeral home in Gallipolis, Ohio. The management says, "We have owned an Arkla Servel air conditioning and heating unit for over five years. We are highly pleased with it, and we find it economical to operate. We don't know of a better air conditioner."

$10.25 year around average monthly cost to cool and heat this 1200 sq. ft. home in Urbana, Ohio. The owner says, "We are satisfied and really enjoy the comfort from our Arkla Servel Gas All Year Air Conditioner."

Only The Gas Company gives you a Guarantee of Satisfaction with air conditioning that is more than a warranty of parts. It's a guarantee of comfort Winter, Summer, Spring and Fall!

Don't just replace that old furnace. Switch now to Gas all-year air conditioning and enjoy complete indoor comfort 365 days a year. You get twice as much performance yet installation costs little more than a good new heating system. One unit — the same unit — heats or cools your entire house perfectly. No ifs, ands, or buts about that, because The Gas Company engineers your installation, and guarantees its performance.

City Junior College Measure Headed For DiSalle Veto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today he will veto a bill committing the state to help finance community colleges and two-year technical institutes.

But he virtually promised at the have ready, by he time the Legislature meets again in 1961, a plan for the creation of a community college in Cleveland.

He added a study also will be made of the need for a two-year technical institute in Barberton.

The governor pointed out to a meeing of educators and others in his office that his veto will not delay creation of any of the institutes planned in the various communities of the state. Tha, he said, is because the bill he is vetoing carried no state appropriation for such institutes.

The planning for the future institutes, the need of which DiSalle said he is very much aware, will be handled by a branch of the new Department of Economic and Industrial Development. He has just signed the bill creating that department.

The King James version of the Bible was published in 1611. Boston was founded in 1630.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr EDWIN P JORDAN

Children Are Source of Parents' Worries

It is a rare experience for parents not to have some worry about their children at all times. And what the parents are worried about usually keeps changing as a youngster grows older.

Mrs. B. writes that her six-year-old grandson has had a runny nose and sniffles almost all his life. He has been treated for colds but the trouble continues.

Here, probably, is an instance of a condition which is known under several different names, among them perennial rhinitis.

The most likely possibilities are enlarged adenoids or allergy to some common substance breathed in or eaten by the child.

Both of these possibilities should be investigated and corrected if possible. There is also a strong chance that the youngster will "outgrow" the worst of his difficulties.

A PROBLEM of a different kind comes from Mrs. R., who says she has been looking after a neighbor's boy of 13. He seems normal unless he doesn't get his own way. Then he cries or screams. The boy lost his mother when he was six years old.

Most children feel deprived of something important if they do not have two parents. However, this boy, does seem too far out of the control of his father.

Firmness and love are needed. It is quite possible that he would benefit by the advice of a psychologist or a psychiatrist, who should not only discuss the problems with the boy himself, but also with his father. Everyone has to learn that he cannot always get his own way.

ANOTHER MOTHER writes that her three children like to eat fruit but the following day have diarrhea. She asks if they may outgrow this difficulty.

It seems fairly clear that these youngsters eat too much fruit or the wrong kind and that this is responsible for the difficulty.

The solution should be relatively simple: Eliminate or restrict the particular fruit which causes the diarrhea.

Another inquiry concerns a 16-year-old boy in high school who works many evenings and Saturdays, and has a twitching on one side of his face.

This is probably a tic, or habit spasm, and is quite common in grownups as well as children. It is not a sign of serious disease, but it is possible that this youngster is under too much strain.

An effort should be made to reduce the strain, have him get sufficient sleep and be as calm as possible.

DICK'S KICK — Pat Molittieri, 16-year-old Philadelphian who danced in the crowd for two years on Dick Clark's television show without pay, claims the teen-agers' idol won't have her on the program any more. Pat says an article shse wrote about him got her banned. Says Clark, her statements simply "aren't true."
